Gravediggers Strike At Colma Cemeteries

The gravediggers and caretakers of Cemetery Workers & Greens Attendants Union Local 265, AFL-CIO, simultaneously struck Holy Cross, Home of Peace, Woodlawn, Cypress Lawn, Salem, Hills of Eternity, Eternal Home, Olivet, Italian and the Greek cemeteries in Colma on Tuesday, March 6, at 7 a. m.

They are asking for the wage scale given to construction laborers as well as the straight five - day week — Monday through Friday—and vacation, holiday, sick leave and health and welfare "improvements.'

Last time the cemetery workers walked out — for two months in 1956 — San Francisco mortuaries had to store hundreds of bodies and the strike became a community-wide concern.

Altogether the graveyards handled 803 burials, exhumations and cremations in February. They average 725 a month.

The cemetery workers are striking for a higher wage, for what they regard as skilled labor jobs. The local has charged that increased graveyard mechanization demands greater skills and ultimately is going to eliminate jobs. Members of the local claim their gross weekly wage of $105 falls far short of wages paid laborers in other professions, and that other jobholders do not have to face such unpleasant working conditions.

Officials at Holy Cross Cemetery have denied that the use of equipment — tractors to dig graves and electric tools to take care of lawns and greens —necessitates any large degree of skill or has eliminated any jobs.

Spokesmen said, "These machines demand no high skills, we've actually hired more since we started using machines."

ie union's 160 members e asked for a two-year con- t granting a pay raise of 0 per day. The employers' t offer, $2.40 per day in- ease over three years, was rned down.

Spokesman for the Associated Cemeteries of San Francisco John Cantwell said that the employers wanted to arbitrate all issues after two months, but that the union refused. The contract ran out on March 1.

Cause Of Deaths Checked

The "brown death" or the "brown," two names used to designate the lethal uncut heroin thought to be circulating in the San Francisco area, has been linked to the death of Bruce Selmi.

Selmi, son of former Daly City mayor Paul G. Selmi, was found dead in a parked car near the Alemany Emergency Hospital on Feb. 25. The car was registered to his father.

Three other recent addicts' deaths now come under question. Joyce Magee, 25, died Saturday near the San Francisco General Hospital. Death tentatively listed as an "overjolt." Josephine Diaz, 29, was found collapsed in the shower of an Ellis street motel on Feb. 5. Tentatively an "overjolt." Verna Posey, 27, died in a Pine street apartment on Feb. 27. Cause of death unknown.

The "brown" evidently isn't made to kill, but is processed in such haste that some of it remains poisonous. A piece of this unrefined "stuff" brings on convulsions, spasms and a writhing, tortuous death. ....

Police aren't sure of all the circumstances surrounding the deaths, including Selmi's, but the possibility of the "brown" exists.

Speeder, Wife Hurt In Crash

A San Jose couple, speeding from South San Francisco police were seriously injured Wednesday night, Feb. 28 when their car came to the end of a dead end street and hit a Southern Pacific Railroad embankment.

Listed in fair condition at Peninsula hospital were George Traks, 38, of 1703 Cathay drive, San Jose and his wife, Eunice. 26. Traks, the driver, received a concussion, multiple facial lacerations and a fractured left arm. His wife received a concussion, multiple wound to the face and scalp and possible internal injuries.

SM Voters Lick School Tax, Bonds

The San Mateo City Elementary School District lost its tax and bond election last week, and as a result may be forced to curtail classes, freeze teachers' salaries, eliminate some sports and reduce the number of school buses.

The voters beat this $4,500,000 bond issue 4612 "no," to 3206 "yes." It required a two-thirds majority to pass.

They defeated the 68-cent tax increase, 4221 to 3605. It needed a simple majority.

Norman Naegle, assistant "We are really pretty shocked. I guess after a history of success and public support, we just didn't believe this could happen to us."

The election affects 12,000 elementary school students in San Mateo. They will be faced with larger classes, elimination of special instruction such as speech correction and loss of the guidance division with its four school psychologists.

Dr. John Andes, school superintendent, in a prepared statement, said:

"San Mateo has in the past always generously supported a quality educational program. In a community of 35,000 registered voters and 12,000 elementary school children a voter turnout of only 7,800 leaves some doubt as to whether the results accurately reflect the feeling of the entire community on a quality educational program. This first reversal of the traditional support will call for drastic changes in the program now enjoyed by the community. . . ."

It was the first bond issue defeat in the history of the school district. The board of trustees will now decide whether to resubmit the issue in June.

The two proposals were to cover the projected needs of the district for the next five years. One observer indicated that the voters were simply not prepared to make commitments that far in the future.

2 Local Men On Grand Jury

Fred C. Bertetta, 10 Wilshire court, Daly City, a salesman, and Phillip D. Thorpe, 52 Northgate avenue, Daly City, business representative for Laborer's Union 52, have been selected as members of the 1962 San Mateo County Grand Jury.

Also selected as juror was former San Mateo city councilman and Mayor Edward Reilly, 2815 Hacienda street, San Mateo, a telephone company executive.

Other jurors selected by Superior Court Judge J. A. Branson were Harry R. Kunz, 800 South Bayshore boulevard, San Mateo, a paving contractor; Elena M. Garibaldi, of 2 Ashfield road, Atherton, a housewife; Marie M. Miller, 2004 Davis drive, Burlingame, a housewife; James V. Smith, 279 Hudson street, Redwood City, a printing company partner; Doris C. Thompson, of 49 Elwood street, Redwood City, a housewife.

Frank D. Williams, 19 Dover court, San Carlos, an airlines mechanic; Werner H. Diederichsen, 750 Winchester drive, Burlingame, a labor business representative; John E. Bray, 2109 Carmalita drive, San Carlos, retired; Marvin C. Yeiter, 398 El Camino Real, San Bruno, an automobile dealer.

Alyn R. Beals, 1105 Blandford boulevard, Redwood City, a salesman; Henry F. Bray, 280 Waverly street, Menlo Park, an automobile dealer; Dr. Henry J. Volonte, 530 El Camino Real, Burlingame, a dentist; Seth L. Butler, 514 Maple street, San Mateo, retired; Jack L. Pedeoboy, Half Moon Bay, a utilities manager, and Louis F. Colagiovanni, 2610 Mason lane, San Mateo, a bank manager.

The jury will meet for the first time on March 12.

Death Found Him Prepared

A retired tax assessor was struck down and killed Sunday, March 3 by an auto as he was walking away from Cypress Lawn Cemetery in Colma. He had just purchased a headstone for his grave.

Marcus R. Ford, of 512 Van Ness avenue, was in a crosswalk when he was struck by an auto driven by Carl Warren Jackson, 38, a building engineer of 238 Eddy street.

The accident occurred on El Camino Real in front of the cemetery at 2 p.m. Ford had spent Saturday setting up a trust fund to pay for his own funeral. He had gone to the cemetery to visit his wife's grave and purchase a headstone for the plot. Ford's wife ,Caddie Alba Ford, 85, died Feb. 9 and was burried Feb. 12 at Cypress Lawn in a two-grave lot owned by them.

Water Rate Reduction Probable By May 1

The possibility that water rate reductions for both suburban and San Francisco customers may be in effect by May 1 was announced this week by James H. Turner, general manager of the San Francisco water department.

He pointed out that if the Public Utilities Commission approves the proposed reductions at a public hearing scheduled for March 13, the new rates will become effective within a month and a half.

Under the proposal, suburban wholesale customers would receive an average of 5.6 per cent reduction, and would also benefit from two additional blocks in the water department schedule which will provide even lower rates for volume sales.

The reductions would apply only to wholesale customers who have signed long-term contracts to purchase all or part of their supplemental water from the water department, Turner noted.

Only three such customers—Palo Alto and Mountain View in Santa Clara County and the Alameda County Water District —have not signed the contracts. Unless they do by May 1 they will continue under the present rates, he pointed out.

All of the water department's wholesale customers in San Mateo County have signed contracts, as have Sunnyvale and Milpitas in Santa Clara County and Hayward in Alameda County.

Turner stressed that, once the water rate reductions are approved for the suburban wholesale customers, it would then be up to these agencies as to whether they would pass the reductions on to their retail customers.

While San Francisco water users will receive a 6.8 per cent reduction, the proposal would maintain the historical difference of about 18 per cent between pricing of water sales inside and outside the city, Turner said, noting that the water department paid more than $935,000 in taxes last year to San Mateo, Santa Clara and Alaeda counties.

The proposed rate schedule would result in a revenue reduction of $866,000 and would represent the first action of the Public Utilities Commission in making progressive rate reductions in accordance with policy announced last year.

Passage of the commission's $115,000,000 water bonds in November led directly to the present proposal, Turner said.

"The customers of the San Francisco water department over the years have paid a relatively high water rate in order to finance the cost of bringing high quality water from remote mountain sources. It is now time that these customers reap some benefit from their past participation in the development of our water and power system," he told the commission.

Use Permits Protested In Pacifica

The Pacifica Planning Commission Monday night, March 5, granted a use permit to El Chalich for a 50 bed nursing home on Peralta road, near the Linda Mar school.

Fourteen Pacifica Gardens residents protested having a nursing home in their midst, with the thought it would be a commercial venture. The commission voted 4-2 to grant approval of the use permit.

Also granted, by a 4-3 vote, was an application of James H. Kennedy for a use permit to allow non-conforming use for the Vagabond Club bar in San Pedro Terrace Subdivision.

A large delegation of residents from Pedro Point protested the measure and indicated they might appeal. The applicant withdrew an earlier request for a combination bar and restaurant.

Police Officer Hurt In Two Car Collision

Daly City patrolman Gordon T. Sims, 31, 67 Miriam street, Daly City, was bruised and shaken up March 3 in a collision with another car on Alemany at Dorchester drive.

Officers said Sims had received a call and was using his siren when his car and a car driven by Edward Rando, 58, of 48 Park Manor drive, Daly City, collided. Sim's car strick the Rando vehicle in the rear and hit a traffic island. He lost consciousness after the impact and was treated at Junipero Serra Hospital.

Chamber Slates Talk On Taxes

What Daly City's future is in industry and the tax structure of commercial and light industrial interests will be discussed at the March 8 meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at noon at Vals Restaurant, President Frank Curry announced.

Speakers will be City Manager Ed Frank and City Engineer William Chapman.

The Crook Got All The Breaks

By Jim Goldsborough

Last Dec. 27, Mrs. Cassie Niswonger, 431 "C" street, Colma, was robbed. She came home on the afternoon of that day and discovered the glass in her side door broken, and a television set, record player and camera missing from inside.

Two people had watched the burglary — and done nothing. They had seen a man drive up in a light colored Chevrolet, get out of the car, try both the front and side doors, get back in the car and drive away. They had watched as he returned a few minutes later, this time with his license plates covered, go to the side door, and with gloves on his hands and a gunny sack around his fist break the glass of the door, reach in and let himself in.

They watched while he carried out his loot, put it in his car and drive away. And they did nothing. Not even report it.

The thief was William Albert Fielding, 40, formerly of 1775 Sweetwood in Broadmoor. Eventually he was caught. Broadmoor police went to the Niswonger home and during the course of routine questioning of the neighbors discovered the two men who had seen the crime. Fielding's car was identified, he was arrested and admitted the burglary.

He also admitted 12 other crimes. Four in Broadmoor and eight in Daly City. He is now in a mental institution.

Rivera Brothers

Last week, Joseph Rivera, 28, and John Rivera, 25, brothers, were arrested by Daly City and Broadmoor police.

These men have now confessed to somewhere around 150 crimes in San Mateo County. Their complex method of breaking into homes consisted of knocking on the door and if no one answered, breaking in and burglarizing. How many people saw them break and enter? How many people did nothing?

The Cat

Two years ago, the "Cat" was making his name. It took a long time for police to catch this one. South San Francisco police at one time were so exasperated that they handed out door-to-door notices, begging the people to please report it when they saw anyone break into a house and steal things.

When they finally got the "Cat" he confessed to 97 cases that San Mateo County police had on their books. Maybe they got him just in time because he had started to shoot at people.

Silence

Policemen are beginning to wonder how many crimes here are that are witnessed from beginning to end — and then not reported. As crimes are investigated, witnesses are found. Many times these witnesses saw everything. Often they can give a complete description of the criminal, his car, his clothes. They just did not report it because they did not want to get involved.

According to Daly City's Chief Petrocchi, the police often have to promise the witness that they will not disclose his nome or subpoena him for court testimony before he will give them any information at all.

"And if we do promise not to subpoena him we won't break a confidence," said Petrocchi. "We'd rather lose a case than break our word.

"Often we don't even need the witness' name, all we need is the information. The best pinches are made when we get a phone call. Just phone in and report it. That gives us something to hang our hat on."

When the criminal's methods are crude like those of the "Cat" or the Rivera brothers or Fielding, he shouldn't be lucky enough to run up as many as 150 crimes before being caught. Somewhere along the line he was observed either in the act or acting suspiciously. Had his actions been reported he would probably have been picked up a lot sooner.

The "Cat" carried a gun, and one night took a shot at Jerry Galindo of the Daly City police. What if Galindo had lost his life. How many people who had failed to report a witnessed crime would have been responsible for that?

Chief Ray Savage of the Broadmoor police says that the people are just afraid of getting involved. They don't want to get a punch in the face. Don't risk it, says Savage, call the police. Let them risk the punch.

Even Their Own

It is hard to believe that anyone could witness a crime and be afraid to report it. Yet it evidently happens all the time. As Savage says, "they just don't want to get involved." Sometimes people don't report thefts that happen to themselves; they just collect the insurance and forget about it. So if someone doesn't want to report his own loss that's his own business. But what if the information had led to the capture. How many crimes would have been prevented?

In last week's "Behind the Badge" article the case of Tyrone Albert Brown was told. Brown raped a Daly City girl, and got away. But he returned to the scene of the crime and got caught. In the last two weeks in Daly City there has been a rape case and a sex pervert case. To gain admittance to the house the rapist posed as a magazine salesman.

Royce Development Okayed in Pacifica

The Pacifica City Council on Feb. 28 approved the multi-million dollar agreement on the Royce development for construction of 765 apartments, 60 tri-plexes and 123 homes on both sides of Rockaway Beach Valley.

The agreement calls for extension of streets into Linda Mar subdivision, dedication of park sites and 54 acres of green belts to be planted by developer Ken Royce.

The development will be in two sections; the smaller, a 46-acre tract to include 215 apartments and 64 homes; the larger, 120 acres near the Seabowl to have eventually some 550 apartments, 60 tri-plexes and 97 homes. Most of the apartments will have views of the ocean.

In other action, the council reinstituted abatement proceedings against the owner of the building formerly known as "Deep Six" Tavern.

Councilmen said the owner, Mrs. Frieda Loeffler, had been given two deadlines to repair the building, located at the corner of Salada and Palmetto avenues in Sharp Park. One of the walls of the building is hanging loosely and swings back and forth across the sidewalk during windy days, the councilmen said.

Awards of commendation were presented to the Mill Lords and Explorer Scout Troop 29. These two teenage groups were responsible for safely transporting guests into a dance during a rainy fourth anniversary evening.

PREPARING FOR the "Westlake Spring Tune-Up" (seated) Mrs. Robert Coghlan, chairman, Koffee Klatch, and (standing) Mrs. John Egnoff, president, Westlake PTA.

"Spring Tune-Up" Set By Westlake PTA

The Westlake PTA's annual Koffee Klatch will be held on Monday, March 12 from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Westlake School. Like the very successful Koffee Klatch of last year this event promises to be just as interesting and entertaining.

The new spring styles now being shown in local stores demand the right accent. With this thought in mind, the Koffee Klatch will feature demonstrations by Mrs. Lorraine Bush, College of San Mateo, in the art of hair styling, coloring, tinting and make-up. The models will be Mrs. Betty Churchhill, Mrs. Kathy Jones and Mrs. Ann Aguilar.

Beautiful table decorations and favors have been made by Mrs. Chadwick Reade and her committee. Mrs. Jack Eichelberger and her committee have arranged for delicious refreshments, and Mrs. Sam Greiff and her committee have many beautiful gift items and plants for sale. Tickets are 50c. Proceeds from this event will be used towards the "Elizabeth Kennedy High School Scholarship Fund." We will be looking forward to seeing you at the Westlake Spring Tune-Up.

Colma Couple Fete 50th Anniversary

On Sunday, February 18, Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Biagini, pioneer Colma residents, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at a party at the South San Francisco home of their daughter, Mrs. Dan Mattson.

The home was beautifully decorated with wedding bells and bows, carrying out a gold and white color scheme.

After an exchange of greetings and toasts, a buffet supper was served to the following guests: The Al Biagini family, Betty, Al and Louis Botti, Barbara and Bruce Morley, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Balin, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leonetti, Rose and Nicholas Belli, Bob, Eleanor and Emilie Smyth, Bunny and Arnold Ross, Zoura, Al and Bobby Martinez, Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Rovere, Stella and John Molini, Mrs. E. The guests of honor were the recipients of many lovely gifts.

TERESA SOUTHERLAND-DANIEL CURTAIN III vows were exchanged on February 17 at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church. The bride is the foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymoad Montosa, 350 Palomar drive, Daly City. The groom resides at 18 Southdale avenue, Daly City and is employed by Wells Fargo Bank. The new Mrs. Curtain is a 1962 graduate of Westmoor High School. The groom attended Jefferson High School and San Francisco City College.

Rehabilitation Group To Meet

Mrs. Robert Mendelson, president of the Central Peninsula Chapter ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training) announces that the group's annual luncheon-fashion show will be held on Saturday, March 31., 12 noon at the El Rancho Motel on El Camino in Millbrae.

Chairman of the affair is Mrs. Paul Radcliffe. Assisting Mrs. Radcliffe on her committee are the Mesdames Bernard Davis, Jerome Karp, Eric Kermit, Joseph Levin and Raymond Olinsky. Fashions will be provided by Hawkes Limited of San Mateo.

Tickets for this forthcoming event may be purchased through group members. For further information call Mrs. Jerome Karp, PL 6-3265; Mrs. Barry Rosekind, JU 9-3939 or Mrs. Phillip Sonnenstein, OX 7-4778.

Six Qualify For Scholarship Award

Six students from South San Francisco High School have qualified as semi-finalists for the California State Scholarship award, according to Robert Howe, coordinator of counseling at the high school.

The students are Kathleen P. Burns, Forrest W. Curo, Thomas A. Dawson, Margaret A. Fitch, Sharon L. Hoyle and Ronald W. Schmidt.

These students are now eligible to become finalists and to be eligible to receive $900 per year for your years while they attend any state college.

Swimming Program Is Offered By Red Cross

The local Red Cross opened on March 1 its traditional March balance of need campaign and membership drive with a salute to its youth members, from elementary through college age, and an extensive program of public information on the Peninsula in the shape of window displays, special exhibits, and the launching of its spring swim program in the north end of the county from San Mateo through Daly City.

Kenneth Gould and William Kelley, fund chairman for the regions have announced that United Bay Area Crusade provided 82.5 per cent of the Red Cross budgetary needs for 1962. Direct mail solicitation will be aimed at long standing friends of Red Cross and the estimated 35 per cent of Bay area residents who did not contribute through United Crusade.

Emphasis on the Peninsula will be on first-aid and water safety services of the Red Cross — the sign-up of people to take the KQED television first-aid course goes into high gear. Enrollment for certification must be completed through a Red Cross office if credit for the 12-week course on Tuesdays or Thursdays is to be received. First class in the services will be Tuesday, March 6, at 4 p. m. over Channel 9, and Thursday, March 8, at 7:30 p. m. A textbook and workbook as well as a three-hour skills workshop is necessary for certification.

Spring swim program at the South San Francisco High School pool starts March 24 with the sign-ups at the school pool on March 24 from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Students must be 42 inches from toe to chin and at least seven years old or through the first grade. Students provide their own suits and towels. Bathing caps are required for the girls. A swim fee of $2.50 is payable to the South San Francisco High School district for pool expenses; the Red Cross defrays other expenses.

'Ortwist' Meeting To Be March 24

"Ortwist" is the theme chosen by the Northern Peninsula Chapter of Women's American ORT to be held on March 24, at Forest Lodge 226 Laguna Honda Boulevard, San Francisco, California.

Friendship hour is at 7 p.m. and will be followed by dinner and dancing to the music of the Cavaliers.

The public is invited, and reservations and further information can be obtained from: Mrs. Seymore Seftel Phone: PL 5-1854 or Mrs. Paul May Phone: JU 3-0195.

(Editor's Note: While it little "farfetched," the following from the office of Attorney G Mosk:)

Public secondary schools ma from attendance in class to enable pate in privately conducted bowli fees are charged, providing the pu lar classes at least four hours a da General Stanley Mosk Tuesday average daily attendance, four h tendance is the minimum require.

However, a high school district fees for elective bowling classes.

The only authority for charging of fees the high school level relates to special classes fo adults and to pupils whose parents are legal residents of adjacent foreign countries. The youth of the State are "entitled to be educated at public expense," states the opinion.

Request for the opinion was made by State Senator Stanford C. Shaw of Ontario. Deputy Attorney General Norman L. Epstein of Los Angeles prepared the ruling.

That Right Of Way Question

One question that continually confuses drivers is: When do I have the right of way? Usually it comes up in connection with making left turns, or in passing through an uncontrolled intersection.

The law states, in the first instance, that the driver intending to make a left turn shall yield to approaching traffic which is close enough to constitute a hazard. Having yielded, he then may begin his turn and approaching traffic shall yield.

In the second instance, the driver approaching an intersection shall yield to a vehicle already in the intersection, but in the event both arrive at the same time, the driver of the vehicle on the left shall yield to the vehicle on the right.

"Both are explicit, yet both leave room for individual judgment," said Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden of the California Highway Patrol.

"Because of this, it is impossible to set out patterns of action which cover every situation. But one thing is certain. If in situations where conflict seems imminent you yield the right of way instead of trying to take it, the combination of factors necessary for an accident is never formed.

"It may cost you a few seconds, but that means a trifling loss when matched against the possible consequences of a collision."

Higher Budgets Prompt Higher Taxes

Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo, who returned to Sacramento this week to continue the work of the 1962 budget session on the State Legislature, stated this week, "Governor Brown's proposed record high budget of $2.9 billion represents an increase of $199 million or a 6.7 per cent increase over the budget for the current year.

"I am concerned over the fact that during the last three years there has been nearly a 50 per cent increase in spending in California compared with only a 13 per cent increase in population.

"We must either cut this year's $2.9 billion budget to fit the estimated revenues of this state, which are $2.65 billion, or face an inevitable tax increase in the near future," Francis said.

The budget session convened on February 5 and after the completion of the opening session chores recessed until March 7.

Francis pointed out that the State constitution limits even-year budget sessions to 30 days in length and the consideration of only fiscal matters. The governor, however, can and does place items dealing with other than finances on a concurrent special call, which has no time limit.

The recess is a regular custom, which allows the Assembly Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee the time to thoroughly study the 1,248 page budget.

"While the governor called for no new taxes in the 1962-63 budget; non-partisan legislative analyst A. Alan Post reported that a $40 million cut in the state budget is necessary to avoid the need for raising taxes. This seems to indicate that the governor was making a political pitch when he gave his, not altogether factual, budget message," the state legislator said.

Final boundaries of the p
Granada area have been set by t supervisors.

Date for the incorporation election was duled for this week. A suggested date was June 26.

Two names have been formally proposed . . . El Granada and Pillar Point. The only supervisor to vote against the boundaries was James V. Fitzgerald, who has expressed doubts that the assessed value of the area will be sufficient to operate a city.

Misgivings about the incorporation proposal, were also expressed by Supervisor Alvin S. Hatch, whose residence is within the boundaries of the city.

An increasing backlog of court cases sparked a recent board of supervisors vote to ask for one new superior judge and one additional municipal judge for the Northern District court in South San Francisco.

Supervisors indicated that they might ask for still another judge for the superior court next year.

Attorney Conrad Reish, a member of the Governmental Research Council, a private organization, which urged that more study on the matter of additional positions be given stated that the number of filings per judge is decreasing while the backlog of cases is increasing. He suggested a study to find out what is producing this.

Superior Judge Wayne R. Millington estimated that 1000 cases are presently awaiting a date for trial. He urged the appointment of two new judges.

A county wide road survey for which most cities in the county have allocated funds, is well underway as a preliminary to a $30,000,000 bond issue that will be submitted to voters next November.

A council of county mayors headed by Wallace Benson of Belmont has reported that all needed data on the survey should be compiled by the end of April.

An inventory of the existing road network to determine capacity has been finished and the committee has completed a study of proposed additions to road work.

The report noted that: Areas with higher population densities generally favor the construction of limited access highways as the most efficient means of moving traffic. In the north end of the county, new freeways are looked at more favorably than in the south bayside area.

The survey is being made by George S. Nolte Consulting Civil engineers, with cooperation between cities, the State Division of Highways and the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

Food For Thought

By the Daly City Ministerial Association

To the practical man Reality is made up of cold, hard facts. And there are a multitude of cold hard facts of life.

Quarrels, bickerings, unhappiness, unfaithfulness, treachery, covetousness—are all about us. These are some of the ugly facts of life.

But what are facts, really. Fact comes from "factum," something that we do or make.

But reality is that which eternally exists, not what is made. Love is. Quarrels are made. Joy is. Unhappiness is made. Truth is. Lies are made. Loyalty is. Betrayals are made. Life is. Sickness is made.

Jesus in His life always looked beyond that which was made. He looked beyond the ugly earth-made facts unto eternal reality. Into the world of cold hard facts, He brought the triumphant power of Love, Joy, Truth, Loyalty, Life. Through Him the hard ugly facts were dissolved by Reality.

This was His way. And He bids us to follow in His way.

FIRE ACTS

This article is written by aly City Firemen and is pubshed in this paper for the urpose of keeping the public iformed about their Fire Deartment its duties and asciated activities.

"At times some people don't em to know where they live." w let's explain what we an.

Many times throughout the ar people who have immede need of the Daly City Poe or Fire Department will ll the San Francisco dept. turally fire and stimulation hand in hand, and its easy say, "Keep cool and ratio-" but because we are human don't always do the right ng, especially if we have er gone through a "dry !" Here's where practice thought prior to the fire ps. It's too late to start about nking about a plan if the mes are licking through your lway.

One thing of importance is make sure everyone in your sehold, who is old enough o so, can correctly dial the City Emergency telephone ber PL 5-4212. But if cirstances are such and you ot dial PL 5-4212 but must hrough the operator make you tell that you live in City.

ts see what exactly hapwhen someone does dial telephone operator to re- a fire: When you dial erator" the light on her chboard will tell her what ral office you are coming ugh, but it does not tell what city the call is origing from. The central offices g the San Francisco-Daly City boundary services both cities.

If you say to the operator "I want to report a fire in Daly City" or "I want the Daly City Fire Department" she will immediately dial the Daly City emergency telephone number PL 5-4112. So far so good! However, if you say to the operator, "I want to report a fire" she will ask what city you live in and if you make the mistake of giving her the wrong city she will not question you but will dial the emergency number of that city. The fire department dispatcher of that city will take your address and when checking his master map for the closest fire station finds that it is a Daly City address he will not dispatch fire fighting equipment but will call us.

So—all this takes time. The fastest way is to dial PL 5-4212, direct and the slowest is to route your call through another city.

Unfortunately everything takes time. It takes time for you to dial PL 5-4212, it takes time for the police department dispatcher to notify the proper fire station over the "hot line" and it takes time for us to get our equipment to the scene of the fire.

It has been said that the first five minutes of a fire is the most important. This is true! Why not give yourself a chance? And at the same time you will be giving us a break. We would rather fight a small fire than a large conflagration. Its such a job cleaning up after a fire.

Maybe you feel we are over stressing the fact that some people report fires to the wrong fire departments, but believe us we're not.

Sections of Daly City are not suburbs of San Francisco, whether this be good or bad is not for us to say. And of course strange as it may seem, we're human too. So there may be a little feeling of hurt pride, in knowing that some people in Daly City will call the San Francisco Fire Department.

We know we are as good as our brothers across the county line. Everyone of us have been trained to operate the pumps, raise ladders, salvage and perform rescue work, let alone fight fires.

We can do as good a job as "they can" whether its cooling off an over cooked steak or putting out a large fire. We suppose if it got right down to it we can break windows and chop holes in roofs as well as "they can."

In the future, if you will please consider us first, we know you won't regret it.

Remember, PL 5-4212.

During the period of February 18 to February 24th. Your fire department responded to the following 33 calls:

Auto accident, 1; auto fire, 2; burning complaint, 1; electric fire, 3; false alarms, 9; house fire, 2; inhalator calls, 3; lockouts, 4; oven fire, 3; rubbish fire, 1; smoke scare, 3; washdown, 1.

Thought for the week: When was the last time you made a complete fire inspection of your home and corrected all the fire hazards you found? ? ? ? ? ?

Letters To The Editor

Asks Change In Garbage Collection Hours

(Editors Note: The following letter was sent to the city council. A copy of it was addressed to this newspaper and it appears in full below.)

My residence is at 7 Skyline drive and is on the east side of Skyline drive. To the best of my knowledge and belief all other houses on Skyline drive south to Westmoor avenue are built on a reverse plan, thus the bedrooms overlook the street; namely, Skyline drive. This poses a problem of noise which, I think, can be alleviated.

The garbage collection at my end of Skyline drive is at about 3:30 a.m. on Fridays. The collectors now use a piece of equipment with a lift that is extremely noisy. If its use is to enhance cleanliness it isn't working out well on the windy days we've had here. But the main point is the noise at that hour.

Four years prior to moving into my present address I resided at 21 Northgate drive. Colection there was at about 6:30 a.m. Saturdays. Since the bedrooms there were in the rear, I was seldom aware of any noise at all.

Based upon my experience in the old residence and the terrible din I am plagued with here, I would like to suggest that the hour of collection in areas having the reverse plan homes be changed to a more reasonable hour. Friday is a bad enough day at best. When one's sleep is interrupted, as has been mine, it doesn't help.

In addition to the noise created by the collectors themselves, we get a dividend on windy night. Two or three weeks ago there were at least a dozen garbage cans piled in the cul-du-sac in front of my home. I submit the collectors could avoid this by placing the empty cans between the houses.

Further, the wind-blown cans often are accompained by considerable amounts of debris. After the storm a couple of weeks ago, the north end of Skyline drive was a veritable dump. My wife and the lady at No. 1 Skyline and children of the neighborhood finally policed the area. This is unpleasant and unhealthy. I submit the Department of Public Works should have been out in force to deal with the litter problem. Especially since there seams to be an anti-litter law on the books.

The noisy garbage can has long been a plague of our urban society. I realize the gentlemen, scavengers, I think they are called, have a very tiresome task. Nonetheless, they have solicited the franchise and enjoy a protected monopoly, therefore should be subject to regulation that would call for a master performance with maximum consideration possible to the peace and tranquility of the community.

Very truly yours,
Charles R. Wheat

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—How long must a woman have been married to a World War I veteran before the VA will consider her a widow if he dies?

A—She must have been married to him for five years unless (a) a child was born to them, in which case there is no time factor needed or (b) unless she married him before Dec. 1, 1944. The similar date for World War II veterans is Jan. 1, 1957, and for veterans of the Korean conflict, it will be Feb. 1, 1965.

Q—If a veteran names his mother as the beneficiary of his GI insurance policy and then marries, is his wife protected?

A—The veteran will have to notify the Veterans Administration if he wishes to name his wife as his beneficiary. Full details may be obtained at any VA office.

Q—How many hospitals does the VA maintain outside continental United States?

A—The VA has hospitals in each state in the Union, except Alaska and Hawaii, and in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. In other U. S. possessions and in foreign countries the VA contracts place veterans should the need arise.

Q—Are the widows of Confederate veterans eligible for pensions from the United States government?

A—Since July, 1958, widows of Confederate veterans have been eligible for pensions.

WHEREAS, the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Girl Scouts of the United States of America will be celebrated by 2,646,000 Girl Scouts and 773,000 adult volunteers during the week of March 11-17.

WHEREAS, it is not necessary to recite the many merits of the work of the organization in teaching girls the values of working together for the betterment of all. One out of every seven girls in the United States belongs to a Girl Scout unit. In the Daly City - Colma district there are 1,089 Girl Scouts in 75 troops.

WHEREAS, Daly City is proud of its Girl Scouts and their leaders. Their efforts are worthwhile and a great asset to the community.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Robert St. Clair, Mayor of the City of Daly City, do hereby extend heartiest congratulations upon the Golden Jubilee Anniversary of the Girl Scouts of the United States of America.

Dated this 2nd day of March, 1962.

ROBERT ST. CLAIR,
Mayor of the City of Daly City.

Work Call Goes Out For Methodist Men

President Sam Steinert of the Methodist Men of St. Paul's has issued a call for all men of the church to report for work on Saturday, March 10, at 8 a. m. Various jobs of carrepairing, plumbing and other "chores" have been laid out by the trustees to be done that day. All men are asked to come in their work clothes.

Sermon topic for the first Sunday in Lent, March 11, by the Rev. Robert A. Lundy of St. Paul's Methodist Church will be "What Can a Man Believe."

The Peninsula portion of the Golden Gate district of the Methodist church will meet for its quarterly fellowship in St. Paul's church on Friday, March 9, at 5:30 p. m. This group of ministers and wives, under the leadership of the district superintendent, Dr. D. Clifford Crummey, meet in the various churches from time to time for purposes of fellowship. The Rev. and Mrs. Robert A. Lundy will be the host couple.

St. Paul's church nominating committee, consisting of Mrs. Bert Nicholls and Mrs. Elmer Wilbourn, Max McClay, Aldo Kinucciani, Joe Paron and the pastor, will meet at the Joe Paron residence, 277 Village way, on Tuesday, March 13, at 7:30 p. m. A slate of officers for the new church year to be presented to the church for election at the quarterly conference next month will be selected.

A church membership training class for intermediate and high school youth will be conducted by the minister of St. Paul's Church on Saturday mornings during Lent from 10 to 11 a. m.

OLM Day Of Recollection To Be Held March 24

On Saturday, March 24, a Day of Recollection will be held at Our Lady of Mercy Church in Westlake for all the women of the parish and their friends. Rev. Father Robert Leonard of the Society of Jesus will be the moderator for the day.

Mrs. Howard Poblitz, spiritual director for the Westlake Catholic Women, has announced that Mrs. Vern Box is the chairman for this annual day of veneration and contemplation. All women of Our Lady of Mercy parish are urged to attend this most rewarding day and to invite their friends.

Tickets for the catered lunch are $2 each and may be obtained from Mrs. Box at PL 5-0491.

The day will begin at 9 a. m. with mass being offered at 11:15 a. m. to noon.

A delicious lunch will be served in the parish hall. The Rosary will be recited at 1:15 p. m. and benediction will bring the Day of Recollection to a close at 3 p. m.

Father Leonard will hold conferences during the day, and answer any questions presented by the women.

Our Redeemer's Will Use New Church Liturgy

Sunday, March 11 will be the first Sunday at which the new liturgy of eight participating Lutheran Churches will be used at Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church.

In 1956, eight American Lutheran Bodies decided to write a worship service which would bind and bring the various Lutheran backgrounds in America a little closer together. These cooperating bodies decided to adopt the format of worship which is most commonly used amoung the Lutheran groups. Our Redeemer's Lutheran has chosen to adopt the same new worship service.

Changing from a much liked order of worship to something new is not done hurriedly. The congregation voted at the regular annual meeting, January 23, to begin the new Lutheran Liturgy Sunday March 11.

Mrs. Irvin Tweet, organist, and Miss Geraldine Nelson, director of the senior choir, will assist the congregation in singing the responses.

Lutherans Set Lenten Services

March 7, Ash Wednesday, will mark the beginning of the annual midweek Lenten services at the Westlake Lutheran Church at 222 Avalon Drive in Daly City. These weekly services will be held at 8 p.m. during the entire season of Lent. The Rev. Jesse Thompson, pastor of the church will present a thought-provoking series of devotional studies based upon the five parts of Luther's Small Catechism:

The Commandments.
The Lord's Prayer.
The Creed.
The Sacrament of Baptism.
The Sacrament of the Altar.

Visitors are cordially invited to hear these inspiring sermons —transportation can be arranged for these wishing to attend these services by contacting the secretary of the congregation, Mrs. Harvor Vinson at PL 5-4454 earlier on the day of the service.

The Sunday morning services remain at 8:30 and 11 and nursery care is available. Sunday school meets at 9:45. Communion services are held the first Sunday in the month at both services.

B'nai Israel Youth Services Planned

Traditional Friday evening services will be conducted by the seventh and eighth grade students of the religious school of Congregation B'nai Israel on March 9 at 8:30 p. m. at 67 Los Banos avenue in Daly City.

Those participating are David Kruger, David Podolsky, Gordon Sanoff and Howard Stein. A sermon on Judaism will be presented jointly by Helen Lichtman, Lois Hart, Barbara Krow and Vivian Goldberg. The services will be under the supervision of Rabbi Solomon Shore.

The Sunday School children have started preparations for their Purim program, which will be held Sunday, March 25.

...been invited to attend the Watchtower Kingdom Ministry School in South Lansing, N. Y., for four weeks this summer.

Announcement was made Sunday night by Lester M. Dugan, district supervisor for the Witnesses in northern California, at the final session of the semi-annual circuit conference held March 2-4, at the Scottish Rite auditorium in San Francisco.

Dugan described the school as four weeks of intensified training that is being given to all overseers of congregations throughout the world. Already more than 1,500 presiding ministers from the 4,300 congregations in the United States have attended the school.

It was a happy, yet serious throng of 2,519 that was present at the climax of the assembly to hear Dugan answer the question, "Who Will Rule the World?" He called attention to the condition now existing that has East and West vieing for supremacy and world rulership.

After showing that Bible prophecy had foretold this very condition, he stated that "the right to rule this world has been given to Jesus Christ by Almighty God and the fact that men and nations are dirivning for control creates an issue that confronts all mankind. They must choose between the present governments of men and the Kingdom of God under His son Jesus Christ."

Using the Bible, he further stated that God's Kingdom will destroy all present world governments and it alone will rule the world from a heavenly throne.

Casperson announced that the regular meeting scheduled for the Kingdom Hall, 206 Plymouth avenue, will resume this week. Bible studies will resume Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock; ministry school and service meeting at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, and the public Bible talk and Watchtower study at 4 p. m. Sunday.

Hope Lutheran Family Night Held March 2

Members of Hope Lutheran church, 55 San Fernando way, Daly City, gathered at the War Memorial building in Daly City for a family night dinner Friday evening, March 2. An excellent dinner was followed by entertainment and group singing.

The entertainment feature of the evening was a showing of color slides by the Rev. Herman Bielenberg of Oil City, Pa. This showing presented some exceptionally fine examples of color photography, many of the pictures being of rare beauty. Some of the slides shown have won international awards.

Pastor Bielenberg, in addition to demonstrating his remarkable proficiency as a photographer, proved to be an unusually amusing narrator, and during the presentation of the less serious part of his program, kept his audience in laughter.

The climax of the presentation was titled "Footprints of the Creator," revealing His work in some of the most beautiful scenes of nature to be seen throughout the world.

The entertainment portion of the evening's program was kicked off by a mimic quartet, "The Hopeless Four," consisting of Al Richter, Dale Williams, Grayson Kuehnert and Daryl Gleason, whose hilarious antics brought down the house.

Ray Little acted as master of ceremonies for this occasion.

Youth League Going Strong

The Luther League of Westlake Lutheran Church, 222 Avalon drive, has many exciting activities planned for the coming months.

There is an Evangelism Drive going now, in which the group is divided into two teams, one headed by Hep Klemm and the other headed by Jay Reinstra. On March 18 this drive will close, and the team that has brought in the most new people to the League will be given a dinner by the other team.

The officers are Dave Kazakoff, president; Mary Lee Woodman, vice president; Beverly Davidson, secretary; Chester Doerr, treasurer; and Doreen Haldorson, pocket testament movement secretary. They have planned the next meeting as a hike up NBC Mountain on March 25.

Some of the future plans include a trip to Half Moon Bay Drag Strip, a church clean-up, and a picnic at Marin Town and Country Club. Every other meeting is held at the church and is considered a business meeting.

In December, the League had a week-end snow trip to Echo Summit as one of the meetings. It also had some stewardesses from TWA show films of their travels. It proved very interesting.

This group is open to young people of high school age. If interested, call the church at PL 5-5598 or contact any of the officers for further information. Beverley Davidson, secretray, may be reached at PL 5-6458.

Westlake Catholic Women Meet Monday

Albert Bucci will conduct the regular monthly meeting of the Westlake Catholic Women in the parish hall of Our Lady of Mercy Church, immediately following the Devotions to Our Lady of Perpetual Help at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Frank Kelechava will give a complete report on the recently held rummage sale. Mrs. Howard Poblitz, spiritual director, announces that the annual Day of Recollection will be held on Saturday March 24. Mrs. Vern Box is the chairman for this day of contemplation.

Tickets, priced at $2 each, may be obtained from Mrs. Box at PL 5-0491.

The chairman of the linen booth, Mrs. Frank Curry and Mrs. John Cresalia, chairman of the surprize package booth, remind those who volunteered donations to please bring them to the meeting on Monday evening.

The Festival "SPACE-O-RAMA" on May 3, 4, 5, 6, will be here before we know it, so the sooner these donations are brought in, the easier it is on the hard-working committees.

A special highlight of the meeting will be the membership award given to some lucky member in attendance.

Mrs. William Coen, hospitality chairman, announces these hostesses for the evening: Mrs. Edward Caccilagio, Mrs. Thomas Meehan, Mrs. Raymond Murphy, Mrs. Robert Schmidt, and Mrs. Albert Spears. All Westlake women are invited and most welcome to attend.

A manned U. S. Navy balloon rose 21½ miles above the earth, 113,740 feet, on May 4, 1961.

Congregation Judea News

Dr. Harry B. Scholefield, Minister of the First Unitarian Church of San Francisco, will be the guest preacher at Temple Judea on Friday evening, March 9, at 8:30 p.m., 95 South Mayfair, Daly City.

Temple Judea has conducted its Migh Holy Days services at the First Unitarian Church during the past few years; thereby a warm and friendly relationship has grown up in the spirit of brotherhood between the two groups. The community is invited to hear Dr. Scholefield on the subject of "A Kind of Self-Reliance Which is not Brittle."

Girl Scouts To Be Honored

This Friday evening, March 9, Girl Scouts of the Jewish faith will be honored at Temple Judea. Mrs. Bertram Toor will bless the Sabbath candles, and Deborah Skootsky and Linda Taylor will participate in the service.

Donor Luncheon

Temple Judea Sisterhood has selected Wednesday, May 23 as the date for their donor luncheon, which will be held at the Fairmont Hotel.

Mrs. Clifford Glicksman and Mrs. George Riba are co-chairmen of this event, and further information concerning reservations, etc. will be forthcoming at a later date.

Donut Sale

Judea Sisterhood wishes to express thanks to all those who so generously supported their Donut Sale held at Hunt's Donuts in Westlake, and take great pleasure in reporting that returns on the sale exceeded expectations and will in time benefit Temple Judea's Religious School. Also, the success of this project is due in great part to Frank Hunt, to whom Temple Judea wishes to express deepest appreciation.

ALCW Lutherans Plan Smorgasbord Dinner

The A.L.C.M. group of the Westlake Lutheran church at 222 Avalon drive are planning its annual smorgasbord dinner meeting for adults of the church on March 19 at 7 p. m.

If you plan to attend, please call Mrs. LaVerne Taylor at PL 6-9533 for reservations, as there is limited space. There will be entertainment, also. Everyone will have a very pleasant evening with the group.

Colma K-6 Assembly

The student body of the Colma K-6 School attended an assembly in the multi-use room during the month of February. President Keith Poole presided over the meeting.

Mrs. Hemp's second grade students presented their culmination of their social studies unit on "Communications in Daily Living." Their play depicted how a family listens to the radio, talks at the dinner table to exchange ideas, reads the newspaper, uses the telephone and watches television in the home. The characters in the play were Sandra Radzinski as mother; David Morton as father; Mayre Albert, Francis Carney, Robin Daleiden and James Delfino as children; Michael Jones as newsboy; and Cole Crews as a T.V. repairman.

The play also told what the class had learned about the postoffice and its workers. Susan Meyer acted as clerk, Dennis Wood explained the cancelling of mail, Frank Bertini told about sorting mail and James Cranna acted the part of the mailman.

Mrs. Malone's fourth grade class presented a play, "Rumplestiltskin" which they had read in their reading group. The children made all their own costumes and wrote their own dialogue.

The players included Madelyn DeMarco as Rumplestiltskin, Harry Featherstone as the king, Billy Beardsley as the servant; Jenine Tardelli as Maysel; Alfred Scardino as Francis; James Lemke as George; Dennis Montgomery as Robert; Kris Hobson as Rodney; Laurie Cayssials as Lenore; Irene Healy as Lucy; Andre Comstock as the prince; and, Yvonne Poole as the announcer.

Mrs. Rasmussen's third and fourth grade class presented a play entitled, "I'm Proud to Be An American." The play was written by the children as a culmination of the fifth grade social studies unit, "Making our Nation." The play was about three girls discussing how dull history was when a nearby statue of Benjamin Franklin came to life and took the girls to a strange court where many famous people of the past told their stories in original poem form. The jury was played by the fourth grade; their parts were done in choral speaking in poetry form. George Washington, played by Steven Jacobson, was the presiding judge. Andrew Hamilton, played by Gerry Baldassarre, was the prosecuting attorney.

Others in the cast were: Rodney Moore, King George III; Nanette la Cour, Patrick Henry; Keith Poole, John Hancock; Gerald Kaleiki, Samuel Adams; Ron Thuener, Thomas Jefferson; Willa Barnes, Paul Revere; Mary Wurm, Benedict Arnold; Lauri Anderson, James Madison; Gail Harada, Betsy Ross; Charleen Gilmore, Francis Scott Key; Steve Christiano, Nathan Hale and Ricky Yano as Benjamin Franklin.

The entire play was written by the class in original poetry form which was so well executed that parents and students could hardly believe that such a prduction was planned and performed by a fourth and fifth grade class!

Westlake School

A highly successful powwow, complete with Indian headgear, costumes, jewelry and masks, was recently culminated by Margaret Beber's third grade class at Westlake School. Various Indian dances, authentically created by children themselves, were performed before parents and teachers who came to witness the exciting demonstration. Among the dances were the Kachina, Eagle, Corn, Feather, Butterfly, Hummingbird and Laughing Horse.

All the costumes, jewelry, masks, etc., were planned and designed by the children during their art period.

A large mural, together with a pueblo constructed by the class, formed a picturesque background for the dances.

Several performances of the culminating activity were given. One day was set aside for mothers and fathers who were invited to see their activities for all the third grade teachers in the Jefferson Elementary School District. Also, every primary class was invited at some time to see the dances.

Mrs. Beber's enthusiasm for the performances was expressed this way: "It has been said that the Pueblo Indians were always 'getting ready for dances — having dances — or getting over dances.' After giving these many performances, the children felt that this statement was really true. They were wonderful."

The dance program was introduced by Joel Weinberg. Conclusions were made by Elizabeth Riba.

George Washington

The George Washington Student Body was presided over by president, Ronald Hampton at assembly.

Principal Fred Schweickhardt awarded the athletic awards for the noon league to the following classes: Mrs. Zoe Conn's sixth grade Vikings for girls volleyball, also the boys Vikings for volleyball.

Miss Gale Hultgren's Giants won the girls' basketball in the fifth grade league and Mrs. Violet Norsworthy's Pirates the boys basketball.

The sixth grade under Mrs. Zoe Conn presented the special feature of the morning called dreams.

Baking Is Fun

A delicious aroma permeated Don Knudsen's third and fourth grade room at Vista Mar, as an activity connected with the social studies unit "Exploration and Village Life of the Southwest" was explored.

The students made corn flour tortilla, a corn meal type of Mexican bread, and also baked five loaves of white yeast bread.

Last week another activity, an outgrowth of the unit enriched children's experiences —the making of tallow candles and lye soap. These activities not only enrich and motivate learning, but they serve as growth in terms of appreciation, sharing, working together, and the other social understandings which develop full participation of an individual in a community.

Telephone Visit

Miss Mary Helen Monroe's and Mrs. Jeane Oberlander's second grade classes visited the Pacific Telephone Company on Washington street in Daly City. They were able to see an important means of communications in operation. The classes saw the many parts of the office. The equipment displayed gave them the opportunity to see long distance operators accept calls from Mexico City and other distant points.

On Wednesday, Feb. 28, Mr. Engle, repair foreman for the Pacific Telephone Company, is scheduled to come to Vista Mar to give an illustrated talk on the many types of telephones, and to have the children visit his repair truck.

Both second grades have been engaged in numerous activities relating to the telephone, in terms of integrating and correlating science, health and language arts activities in this social science unit—Communications. The telezonia set, which is equipment from the district Instructional Materials Library, was used to dramatize and motivate the proper use of the telephone.

Olympia School

Miss Cottrell's second graders culminated their study of communication by taking a trip to the telephone company in San Francisco on February 21.

They saw a switchboard in operation, dial equipment that handles the calls dialed at home, how "repair" calls are answered, the Information operator, how long distance calls are handled, the role safety, good housekeeping and courtesy play in everyday living.

Accompanying the children on the trip were Mrs. Feldman, Mrs. Larsen, Mrs. Muller, Mrs. Vinson, and Mrs. Barr.

Student Teachers

Four student teachers from San Francisco State College are involved in classroom experience at Vista Mar.

Sharon Light, who is working with resident teacher Miss Margaret Dwyer, second and third grades; Susan Ostergard, who is working with Mrs. Paula Shepard, first grade; Henrietta Robinson, with Mrs. Jeane Oberlander, and Rachael Smith, who is in a third grade class with Mrs. Jane Cain.

These students are considered a part of the faculty and will participate in all staff and class activities. Their supervisor from San Francisco State College is Mrs. Wilma Brown.

Language Enrichment Program Slated

A group of parents of Olympia and Fernando Rivera School children have retained the services of Dr. Manuel Guerra and his teaching staff for instruction of French and Spanish.

This is a privately conducted program offered at a cost of $19.50 per child per semester, open to all interested children.

All classes start on Monday, March 12. Fernando Rivera classes will be held Mondays and Wednesdays from 8:20 a.m. to 8:50 a.m.

Olympia classes will be held Mondays and Tuesdays from 3:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. Further registrations will be handled on opening day of classes at the respective schools.

Beta Sigma Phi Gals Present Talks

Mrs. Richard Rowland, president, called the regular meeting of Psi Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi to order on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Tom Bournellis, 89 Lakewood drive in Daly City.

Mrs. Rowland presented the program "Express Yourself" by calling on each member present to give a three-minute talk on either her favorite program or some current event.

Mrs. C. M. Sheridan, social chairman, reported that plans were progressing for the rush party to be held March 15, and that programs for the fashion show, sponsored by the council, were taking shape.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Coons, 333 Palomar drive, Daly City, with Mrs. Frantz Cox giving the program on "Let's Match Wits."

Mayor Plans Grid Talk With VM PTA

The Vista Mar PTA will present a program conducted by Mayor Robert St. Clair on March 13 entitled "Improving Your Game—Vistas of Spectator Football."

San Francisco is headquarters for four of the nation's 50 largest banks.

Vista Mar School

San Francisco State College is associated in several areas with Vista Mar School. Besides having four student teachers — Susan Ostergard, Sharon Light, Henrietta Robinson and Rachael Smith, who are working with Mrs. Paula Shepard, Miss Margaret Dwyer, Mrs. Jeane Oberlander and Mrs. Jane Cain, respectively—Dr. George Sheviakov is sending nine students to observe in the school in various grades, as a portion of their psychology block at the college.

Dr. Stella Gillette has brought her seminar of student teachers to observe in grades kindergarten through second. Early in March, Dr. Mary Margaret Scobey is sending six of her students to Vista Mar to observe in a fourth and fifth grade level as a portion of their education-sociology block.

These areas of association tend to strengthen links in the educational process for students and teachers, as well as affording opportunity for the district to become acquainted with prospective teachers.

Troop 594 Father-Daughter Dinner Held

Brownie Troop 594 held its annual father and daughter dinner Monday evening, February 26. Nicks Restaurant at Rockaway Beach was the site of the festivities.

Placecards were in the shape of the Brownie berets and the girls pinned yellow paper bow ties on their father's lapels with their names.

The sixteen Brownies did two dances for their fathers.

Fathers and daughters attending, were: Elvis Brown and Janice, Warren Brown and Maggie, William Capps and Dorothy, Willian Connolly and Patricia, Joe Haymaker and Janice, Ray Johnson and Nina, Thomas Keyes and Kathy, Norbert Lindeman and Suzanne, Nick Matve and Karen, Edwin Maurer and Rebecca, Donald Menary and Debra, Louis Pera and Pamela, Donald Russell and Dolores, Charles Sigler and Charlene, George Whitney and Donna, and Melvin Jeppson and Marilee.

Airman Park Assigned To AF Tech Course

Airman Basic Joseph T. Park Jr., whose parents reside at 42 Lilac Lane, South San Francisco, is being assigned to the United States Air Force technical training course for radio and radar maintenance specialists at Keesler AFB, Miss.

Airman Park, who has completed his basic military training here, was selected for the advanced course on the basis of his interests and aptitudes.

The airman is a 1961 graduate of South San Francisco High School.

Residents Donate To Peninsula Blood Bank

The following residents of the Colma-Daly City area recently donated blood to the Peninsula Memorial Blood Bank:

Second donation — Mrs. Abigail Teeter and Francis T. Peeter, both of Daly City First Donation — George R. Balletto of Daly City; Jose Guerrero of Colma, Frank J. Murray and Anthony S. Tapis of Daly City.

Saints To Speak At Holy Angels

A communion-breakfast for Father and Son will be held at Holy Angels Church, Colma on Sunday, March 11 at 8 a.m. A breakfast will be held in the Parish hall following the Mass.

Cornelius Dempsey, program chairman for the event, will introduce the following guest speakers: Jim Francis, a leading scorer with the San Francisco Saints, Kevin O'Shea, former All-American basketballer from Notre Dame, now general manager of the Saints. Al Brightman, who guided several outstanding teams at Seattle University, before being appointed the Saint's coach early this season.

All the men of the parish and their sons are cordially invited to attend.

Lenten Services Set At Hope Lutheran

First of a series of Lenten services is being held at Hope Lutheran church, 55 San Fernando way, Daly City, the evening of Wednesday, March 7, the Rev. Paul R. Malte, Hope's pastor, has announced. Services will be conducted each Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. until Holy Week.

Theme of the Ash Wednesday service will be Acceptance. The holy Eucharist will be celebrated at this service.

Other themes throughout the series will be Anxiety, Parents and Children, Death, Marriage, and Doubt and Faith, Pastor Malte has announced.

FUND RAISING drive gets a kick off by Village Nursery School mothers (from left) Mrs. Jerome Eisenman, Mrs. Edward J. Dennis and Mrs. Bill Fallon. The twelfth annual spring dance and raffle will be held May 12 at the House of Lawton, San Francisco.

Nursery School Mothers Starts Annual Fund Drive

"We are fighting juvenile delinquency before it begins," say the mothers and fathers of Village Cooperative Nursery School, who believe that a free but challenging program of varied work and play make a more contented and confident child.

If a child is too subdued and will not defend himself he is offered companionship along with the support he needs to gain confidence in his associations with other children.

The exuberant or mischevious child who may hit too much or is "always in hot water" learns a new serenity by developing his inward control not from punishment but by guidance and acceptance.

A "just plain bored" child whose parents don't want him to sit and watch television all day will also benefit from nursery school. These are the pre-school boys and girls who attend Village.

The 2th annual spring dance and raffle will be held on May 12 at the House of Lawton, San Francisco. The annual fund drive pays for all supplies for the year ahead. Mrs. Jerome Eisenman (PL 6-8330) and Mrs. Earl Hale (PL 6-4148) are co-chairmen of the dance and may be contacted for tickets if the nursery mothers and fathers do not get to your door before May 12.

The school is presently looking for a building to lease, since the freeway will force its relocation from the old Community Center on Dunks street.

DAR Daughters To Meet March 19

Presidio Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold their regular meeting in the Veterans Building, March 19th. The business meeting presided over by Mrs. Charles Rost Jr., Regent, will begin at 1:30 p.m.

This is the birthday party for Presidio Chapter and Chapter Regents in the Bay Area will be invited.

For the program Chief Granger of the Naval Recruiting Station will show film of the Nautilaus on the Berring Sea and up to the North Pole. Social hour will follow.

The business womens group will meet on Wednesday, March 21, at 5:30 p.m. at the Women's City Club.

Girl Scout Troop 112 Has Investiture

Cathy Hollis of Troop 112 was invested after completing her Tenderfoot Rank. Badges were given to those who had completed their Cyclist and Pioneer Badges.

This fall the troop worked on their Cyclist Badge by going on bike hikes, riding in the Daly City parade and learning safety rules.

Many other girl scouts in the district are preparing to celebrate the 50th Golden Jubilee of the girl scout movement. There will be window displays in different parts of town in the Daly City Library and elsewhere.

Rayme Lictenberg was awarded her Curved Bar in the field of arts. Those in the Troop who have already received Curved Bars are: Lee Elliot, Kathy Knedel, Virginia Jones, Karen Mattson, Kathy McBain, Kathy Wilson.

The rest of the troop include Anita Capps, Debbie Leech, Karen Guyman, Lisa Hollenbeck, Barbara Duff.

The leader of the troop is Mrs. Carlos Mattson.

Daytimer Luncheon To Be Held March 12

"Come one Come all" to the California Daytimers gala luncheon to be held on Monday, March 12, at the YMCA, 18th and Geary Street. It will benefit Hillel Foundation, B. B. Y. O. and A. D. L.

Hillel chairman Dorothy Dulberg has planned an exciting afternoon of entertainment, Mah Jongg and cards.

For information call Mrs. Dorothy Dulberg, MO 4-7086 or Mrs. Esther Levy, SK 2-1311.

AN OPEN LETTER TO CITY COUNCIL CANDIDATES

This letter is directed to the three candidates, whoever they may be, who are successful in winning Daly City council seats at the April 10 election.

It is my fervent hope that the ultimate winners will see fit to again revitalize Daly City's recreation facilities, which have gone virtually neglected for the past 10 years. This is not to imply any criticism on the recreation department and personnel.

Our most important single asset — the youth of our community — are the ones who suffer because recreation facilities have not kept pace with the city's growth.

I would like to point to the fact that there has been no single major improvement in the physical facilities of Daly City's recreation program since completion of the War Memorial Building in 1952.

Our future citizens must have more adequate recreation facilities. Specific action to launch an expansion program for recreation facilities must come from the city council.

I urge every council candidate to give this important phase of our community welfare more than passing thought. I earnestly hope that whoever is successful in the April 10 election will renew interest in this much-neglected field.

The View From ..Behind The Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

(Advance apology—In times of stress and great activity, it is seldom possible to maintain accurate, voluminous, itemized notes for the purpose of further publications. General Eisenhower, L. S. Army, Retired, maintains this is in his book "Crusade in Europe." General Holland M. Smith, U.S.M.C., Retired, ascribes to this thought in his "Coral and Brass." Both men maintain they were too busy fighting a war to make a study of it or to maintain copious notes.

Such was the case with out 1957 earthquake. The police were busy enough maintaining order, guarding against looters and rendering aid to keep detailed notes of their actions. General notes and orders were maintained; it is from these that the information herein related was gleaned.

A further note: This is the View from Behind the Badge; other agencies are not given credit heer for their work following the earthquake. There is no intent to disparage or to overlook other efforts; we restrict our observations to those people whose job we know, the police.

Five years ago, mid-day on a Friday in March—the situation at the Police Department was this:

The first platoon was on duty. Chief Petrocchi was temporarily out of the station. Lieutenant Beecher (now captain) was in general command of the department. Sergeant Benassini (now decased) was in charge of the patrol division, which included Patrolmen Munday, Coleman and Crooker.

Inspector Conci (now lieutenant) and Patrolman Walsh (now lieutenant) were on duty in the investigation division.

In the traffic division, Traffic Inspector Sunderman (now sergeant) was on duty, along with Patrolman Van Otten.

Patrolman Welsh headed the records crew, which then consisted of Josephine Runne (now the chief's secretary) and Bonnie Wilcox.

There were several earthquakes during the morning, each apparently gaining in intensity. Then, at approximately 11:45 a. m., there occurred a more severe earthquake.

The police switchboard was inundated with telephone requests for assistance. In addition to panic calls and assistance requests, there was a large volume of calls from inquisitive citizens.

Officers on the street worked on a seemingly endless flow of complaints. Off duty motorcycle Patrolman Phillips radioed the station for orders (because phone lines were bogged down by the additional traffic) and was instructed to contact other off-duty officers and tell them to report for duty. Lieutenant Beecher assumed general temporary command.

At 12 noon, Sergeant (now lieutenant) Hansen and Patrolman Brooks reported for duty. Motorcycle officer de Losa reported for duty. From this point, Van Otten, Phillips and de Losa (all motorcycle men) were utilized as messengers for the next several hours. Telephones were all but unworkable because of incoming calls.

Beat patrolmen commenced to inform the station as to the extent of damage in the city. First reports indicated damage to the business districts. Residential damage was scattered, but was mostly in the far western sections of the city.

An attempt was made at this time to survey the extent of damages in order to determine where and to what degree police services would be required. Early efforts to detail men to disaster posts were largely ineffective because of the constant demand for police throughout the city.

In order to motorize the off-duty men reporting in, police cars were removed from the city garage and pressed into service. Some were radio-euipped and some were not, as new cars were in the process of being transformed into police cars.

Patrolmen La Bruzzo and Bergstrom and Sergeant Wood (now deceased) reported to the station for duty. Special Patrolmen Quinlan, Brown, Brewer and Gross reported for duty at the Town and Country shopping center. Special Patrolman Leahey reported for duty

Of the 15 disaster posts, ten were temporarily manned by available police. Because of the continuing calls, it was not possible to effectively or continually man all of these posts.

Patrolmen Bastedo, Galinco (now sergeant), Sims (now sergeant) and Warren reported for duty. Chief Petrocchi assumed overall command of the operation.

All disaster posts in operation were checked. Policemen weer redistributed so that the ten posts were operational. Men at these posts petroled their business districts and residential neighborhoods, both by car and on foot. They remained in sight of and at the service of the public. The base of operations was the disaster post itself, usually located at a key street intersection. Those men without radio cars were detailed to posts equipped with telephone call boxes.

Sergeant Benedetti and Patrolman Steen reported for duty.

Mr. Calhoun, then city engineer, advised Officer Crooker that a reservoir was damaged; he further advised evacuation of a neighborhood situated downhill from the tank as a precautionary measure.

Chief Petrocchi authorized the precautionary evacuation. In the meantime, the engineers commenced to drain the tank in order to alleviate the danger. Evacuation commenced.

1:00 p. m.:

Motorcycle men rounded up transportation for evacuation, and it was moved to the area in two convoy serials. The transport consisted of Hilltop cabs, Northgate Transit jitneys, school buses, pickup trucks manned by Doelger employes, a teamster union official with auto, a Spotlight Market truck, a Civilian Defense van, a citizen with a truck, and Patrolman Warren in a borrowed Yellow Cab.

Officers started on the high ground, and worked downhill, block by block, advising citizens of the precautionary evacuation. No householder was forced to leave. Those who did wish to leave were given every assistance in loading themselves, children, and belongings into the assembled, waitwere transported to the Jefferson Union High School for temporary shelter.

Chief Savage and Broadmoor police regulars and reserves assisted with the evacuation.

Assistance arrived on the scene in the form of Sheriff Whitmore and five carloadsof deputies; Chief Kennedy, San Mateo County highway patrol office, with four cars of highway patrolmen, and Captain Terragno and his detail of South San Francisco police.

Sergeant Wood and a detail, on foot, were stationed at a damaged shopping center. The purpose was twofold: (1) To prevent injuries from glass breakage, and (2) to prevent looting. The patrol was successful in both instances.

In Reserve . . .

Walter D. Sainsbury, 31-year-old Inland Marine Underwriter, has accrued 200 patrol hours with this department. Married, with two children, Sainsbury holds a bachelor of arts degree and is working toward his master's degree. Walt is an Army infantry sergeant and veteran of the Korean confilct, where he won the Silver Star medal while participating in five campaigns.

Robert Hayden Daggett, a teamster, has logged some 150 patrol hours with the department. Tom was a Navy machinist's mate for nine years. He participated in actions from Guadalcanal to Lingayen Gulf in World War II, and also saw service in Korean waters. He has what he describes as "a wonderful wife, a son, daughter, and two grandchildren."

JOHN GLENN DRIVE. The first U. S. manned orbital space flight is permanently memorialized by Daly City as Mayor Robert B. St. Clair, center, Councilman Micheal De Bernardi, left, and Street Superintendent Dave Cafferata attach a new street sign changing Gateway Drive to "John Glenn Drive." Located high on a hill overlooking the Pacific in new Westlake Terrace, just off the Coast Highway, the wide residential street was the City Council's choice for a fitting way in which to commemorate the nation's historic feat. The City Council will take formal action next Monday night to make the re-naming official.

Pacifica Lioness Club Meets On 11th

The Pacifica Lioness Club is cooking up final plans for the annual pancake breakfast served March 11, 7:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Sharp Park School.

Tickets are available from any member, $1 for adults, and 50c for children. The breakfast will raise necessary funds for youth welfare work in the community, and will also feature a White Elephant Table.

Troop 357 Has Father-Daughter Dinner

On Feb. 21, Brownie Troop 357 of Garden Village school held its father-daughter dinner at the Westlake Bowl.

Each girl introduced her escort and presented him with a buttonhole carnation made at the troop meetings. A program of poems by the girls and songs followed.

The troop had been saving money since November so that they could surprise their fathers with a paid dinner check. The troop, in meetings prior to the dinner, made their own centerpieces and place cards.

Leaders were Mrs. Ray Peters, Mrs. Peter Alba and Mrs. Steve Hess.

Girls attending with their fathers were Shelly Alba, Janet Brugge, Karen Blake, Joanne Folsom, Marcia Giese, Laura Hess, Darlene McBain, Kathi Milani, Jan Rizzo and Robin Wuerth.

Because of illness, Kristy Peters and Deborah Hailey were unable to attend.

Bad Check Passing Pair Are Arrested

Mildred Mary Raggio, 24, and Jimmy Dean Speakman, 19, both of 229 Topeka street, San Francisco, were arrested March 3 by Daly City police on charges of trying to pass a fictitious check at Woolworth's in Westlake.

The pair allegdly had ordered $175 worth of goods and had them wrapped and ready to go when an examination of a check cast suspicion on them. The pair had also passed checks in stores in San Francisco, police said.

B'nai Women Slate Membership Tea

"Heart and Soul, Toward our Goal" is the theme selected for the membership tea to be sponsored by the Greater San Francisco Council B'nai B'rith Women, on Thursday evening, March 8 at 8 p.m. at the Hall of Flowers Library Room, 9th Avenue and Lincoln Way.

Assisting council membership chairman, Mrs. Harry Yaffee, in preparations for the tea are Mrs. Henry Weinberg, council retention chairman and Mrs. Norman Steinberg, council indoctrination chairman.

The program will include membership awards, crowning of a membership "Sweetheart," and initiation of new members to the chapters within the Council. Highlight of the evening will be a book review, "The Jew in the Gentile World," by Rabbi Robert W. Shapiro of Temple Judea.

Mrs. Jack Krug, council president, cordially invites all B'nai B'rith Women, prospective members and guests to attend the tea.

The chapters assisting the council chairmen in final arrangements are California Daytimers, Golden Cats, Marin, San Francisco, Seven Hills, Skyline, and Unity.

Friend Knifed By Husband After Family Dispute

A South San Francisco meat packer was arrested on charges of assault with a deadly weapon March 4 when he allegedly attacked a friend of the family with a pocket knife following an argument with his wife.

The injured man, Wayne K. Jessop, 31, a carpenter, was treated at Peninsula Hospital.

Police said Robert Howard Green, 31, of 146 Gardiner avenue, was involved in a family dispute with his wife, Claudia. She left for his mother's home at 155 Pecks Lane, South San Francisco.

Green reported drove to this address at 3:10 a.m. in the morning and attacked Jessop on the front porch and stairway of his mother's home when Jessop attempted to talk to him.

B'nai Women Plan March 21 Fashions

At the February meeting of the Greater San Francisco Council of B'nai B'rith Women, Mrs. Mark Lazor, chairman of the forthcoming luncheon and fashion show, announced plans for the event, which will be held on March 21 in the Sheraton Palace Hotel.

This gala afternoon, which is one of the major functions presented by B'nai B'rith Women will take place in the Gold Ballroom of the Sheraton Palace, where a capacity attendance of 1,000 women will gather to enjoy the day.

B'nai B'rith Women are working to make this a success with proceeds going to the Veterans Hospital, Youth Organizations and other philanthropies.

Gardener's Checklist

1. Rose feeding can start this month. Ask your nurserymen about the proper food for roses.

2. Delphinium and primroses may be purchased as established field-grown clumps this month. You can get primroses at your nursery in bloom for immediate color effect in your garden.

3. Frost-damaged plants should be pruned only after all danger of further frost is past.

4. Don't work the soil right after a rain. Let it dry out some before turning it over.

5. New lawns are best planted this month or next. Old lawns will be helped to renew themselves if you give them a good feeding in early March.

Westmoor Grad To Attend Navy School

Boyd Mannion, Seaman Apprentice U.S. Navy has just completed ten weeks of recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, California.

Young Mannion is presently enjoying fourteen days recruit leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Mannion at 527 Beaumont Blvd. He is a graduate of Westmoor High School and will continue his schooling at the Navy's class A Radio School, at San Diego, for six months.

Mrs. Carmen Meadows Suffers Stroke

Old-time Daly City resident Mrs. Carmen Meadows, 91, of 57 Knowles avenue was rushed to Junipero Serra Hospital Tuesday afternoon, March 6, after she collapsed from an apparent stroke while shopping at a dry goods store on Mission street.

She was transferred to Community Hospital in San Mateo, where she was pronounced in fair condition.

School News

Christopher Columbus PTA

The students of Christopher Columbus school had there class picture taken last Thursday. Single photos of each child were also taken.

The room mothers and the teachers helped each child feel presentable.

What an exciting occasion this was for all of the youngsters. "Is my bow straight?" "Hey you messed my hair up."

One youngster worked intently to put a shine back on his shoes. Shirt tails tucked in front never seeing if it was in the back.

All wanted to look their very best. And they did.

Thomas Edison Play

In honor of George Washington's birthday, Mrs Walden's fifth and sixth grade class, at Thomas Edison School, presented a play, "Events in The Life of George Washington."

The principal characters were Bill Brown, as young George, and Terry Brandborg, as General Washington. Other parts were played by: Mary Currier, as Martha Washington; Jody La Rocca, as her son, Jack; Greg Chorley as Governor Denwiddie and Janis Karp, as Mrs. Denwiddie; Jim White, a visitor; Allen Aragon, a soldier; Loren Scanlon and Jimmy Kurkjian as pioneer children; David Morro, Indian Chief; Walter Orozco, messenger; Kathy O'Shauhnessy, a servant. The rest of the class participated as Indians, Minutemen, announcers, and narrators.

Those invited as guests at the performance were Miss Johnson and her fifth grade class, and Mr. Holm and his fifth grade class.

Valentine Trip

On Valentine's Day, Wed., Feb. 14, Miss Levin's 6th grade class braved the rain and went on a field trip.

First they visited the Junior Nature Museum at Coyote Point. The children enjoyed the displays. They listened to a special talk on fossils. A highlight of the trip was that the children were allowed to handle "George," a five foot boa constrictor. Even the girls overcame their fear enough to stroke his scaly sides.

After lunch the class had a chance to stretch their legs and enjoy the fine playground equipment at Central Park in San Mateo.

Then the class visited the San Mateo County Historical Museum where they heard a talk on the County's early history and examined the period displays-Indian, Spanish, Early American, etc.

For the Social Studies project, the sixth graders in Miss Levin's class have been presenting their reports on Central American countries.

Each child chose the country he wished to report on. The reports have included maps, samples of products, etc. A table of contents and a bibliography has been required. Every pupil did his own research using his social studies text, supplementary texts, encyclopedias, and articles taken from newspapers and magazines.

The resulting presentations received many compliments when displayed in the teacher's room.

Dolls At Garden Village

Garden Village students are being shown the Dolls for Democracy exhibit under the supervision of Mrs. Gilbert Toibin. The discussion follows the showing of replicas of real people as dolls—Emma Lazuras, writer of the inscription on the Statue of Liberty, Jackie Robinson, first Negro baseball player, Father Flanagan, founder of Boys' Town, and Abraham Lincoln.

The Dolls for Democracy program is sponsored by the Bnai-Brith Anti-Defamation League to foster an understand of democracy and citizen cooperation needed to make it succeeed.

Two students teachers have joined the staff: Miss Judith Stoll with Mrs. Mary Lewis and Mrs. Van Voorhis with Mrs. Jan Rizzo. Both are seniors at San Francisco State.

Third grade teachers, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Cropp and Mrs. Relyea, have used the resorces of San Mateo County Junior Museum and now have in their rooms lizards, turtles, scorpions, snakes, and numerous live specimens on loan from the museum. The Desert Life unit under study becomes more meaningful with live animals to observe.

Mrs. Gibbons' kindergarten classes of Colma K-6 school walked to the Colma Fire Station, located at Reiner and San Pedro streets in Colma. The trip was the culmination of a unit on community helpers for the kindergarten classes.

The children were shown the fire station by volunteer fireman Tom Kirschner. He explained the differences between the fire trucks and the various equipment they carry. While examining one of the fire trucks, the children were permitted to ring the bell.

The children were also shown how the firemen are alerted about fires, where they would sleep if they lived at the fire station and also, the room where they hold meetings and social functions. In this room Mr. Kirschner served the children and the accompanying adults refreshments.

A discussion climaxed the trip regarding the difference between volunteer fire station and a full-time fire station.

The mothers who accompanied the children were Mrs. Conti, Mrs. Colla, Mrs. Edgman and Mrs. Letcavage for Session I and Mrs. Won and Mrs. Yaroma for Session II.

Telephone Trip

Miss Cottrell's Olympia school second graders culminated their study of communication by taking a trip to the telephone company in San Francisco on February 21.

They saw a switchboard in operation, the dial equipment that handles the calls, how repair calls are answered, the information operation, how long distance calls are handled and the role that safety, good housekeeping and courtesy pay in everyday living.

Mothers accompaning the class were Mrs. Feldman, Mrs. Barr, Mrs. Muller, Mrs. Larsen and Mrs. Vinson.

Christopher Columbus School

The students of Christopher Columbus School have elected to participate in a project assigned to help the elderly people at the Crystal Springs Rehabilitation Center.

The following contributions have been specifically requested:

"About-to-be-discarded" nylon hose for weaving purposes.

Used costume jewelry, such as pairs of earrings, single earrings, strands of beads, broken beads, necklaces, bracelets, rings and lapel pins.

Men's wallets.

Your cooperation in helping the children make the lives of others a little happier will be sincerely appreciated.

The project will extend to March 9 with Mrs. C. V. Schneider and Mrs. M. Guymon as teacher-sponsors for the Junior Red Cross.

W. L. Chessman Weds Bonnie L. Chapman

William Lee Chessman, son of Irene L. Chessman, 1624 Sweetwood Drive, Colma, and the late William D. Chessman, was recently married in Reno, Nevada, to Bonnie Lee Chapman of San Carlos.

Lee is currently a student at the College of San Mateo, where he is majoring in transporation.

Pacifica Dog Fancier Election Is March 9

The Pacifica Dog Fanciers Club will hold its annual election of officers at the next regular monthly meeting which will be on Friday March 9, at 8:30 p.m., in the VFW Hall, Pacifica.

Preceding the Adult Club Meeting, the Junior Division of the PDFC will hold its monthly meeting starting at 7:30 p.m.

The Mud Stopped Its Slide

The mud apparently stayed in place in Broadmoor and Daly City this past week as no new rumbles were heard from homeowners who were threatened by slides previously.

The constantly crossing of fingers from anxious residents situated near the high slopes apparently did the trick.

A steady downpour on Hanover street almost undermined the roadway Tuesday morning, March 6, as water cut through a trench for a water main. City crews worked through the night to alleviate the problem.

Landmark Destroyed In So. San Francisco

An old South San Francisco landwark was lost Feb. 28 when fire destroyed the five story abandoned Klestadt Feed Mill south of East Grand avenue.

Flames leaping hundreds of feet into the air were visible throughout the north county and attracted hundreds of visitors. Workmen razing the wood frame and corrugated metal structure may have accidentally started the fire, said firemen.

SSF Senior Girl Wins Speech Honors

Sharon Hoyle, South San Francisco High School senior, recently was awarded first place in the annual Lions Club Speech Contest held at a recent luncheon—meeting of the South San Francisco Lions Club.

Jose De Larios introduced Sharon, who gave a nine minute speech on the topic: My Role In A Changing World.

Other participants, and members of the South San Francisco High School Public Speaking Class, were John Shaw, and Herschel Brown.

Sharon, accompanied by her Public Speaking Teacher Lyle Crawford, will compete against other Lion's Club Speech Contest winners of San Mateo County on March 9 at the San Francisco International Inn.

Should she win the county contest, she will enter state competition with all county winners, and if she wins the state contest, she will compete with winners of other status in the national contest.

Ballet Company To Give Final Concert

As its bonus for new members, and final concert of the season, the North Peninsula Concert Association will present Kovach and Rabovsky and their ballet company, on March 13, at 8:15 p.m. in the Capuchino High School Auditorium.

Nora Kovach and Istvan Rabovsky have been hailed all over Europe and in North and South America as two of the most exciting dancers in decades. Born in Budapest, these dynamic artists received their training in Soviet Russia, appearing in Moscow's Bolshoi Theatre and becoming members of Leningrad's famous Maryinsky Theatre.

As subsequent stars of the Budapest State Ballet of Hungary, on tour in East Berlin, their flight to the West dramatized in the biography "Leap Through the Curtain" (available in most of the libraries on the north peninsula,) brought them to world wide attention.

The Rabovskys were adored by their people, lived in personal luxury, were presented special status by their government, earned a higher salary than the highest Hungarian government official, but still were not content under communism. In East Berlin, as headliners of a gala evening, they gave it all up, risking their lives on a subway ride to freedom.

Europe and the U.S.A. rejoiced in the acquisition of such stunning and brilliant artists. Ed Sullivan presented them to the American public for the first time as special guests on his coast-to-coast TV show.

Choir Singers

The North Peninsula Concert Association launched its annual membership drive on March 5 for one week only. Highlight of next season will be the Vienna Choir Boys, on Sunday, February 17, 1963. No single admissions will be sold. The price of membership is only $6 for adults and $3 for students for four concerts and the privilege of reciprocity with neighboring associations.

Bethel 26 Plans Queen's Night

Bethel 26 of the International Order of Jobs Daughters will hold its semi-annual "Past Honored Queens' Night" on March 9 at 7:30 p.m. in Mission Masonic Temple, 2668 Mission Street.

A cake sale will be held following the meeting.

Young Mother Faces Child Neglect Charge

South San Francisco police March 1 arrested 18-year-old Barbara Jane Birdsong, 239 Armour avenue, South San Francisco on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Officers said the young woman is charged with leaving her six-month-old child with a baby sitter for several days at a time while she went out with boy friends. She was recently separated from her husband. Arraignment was held March 1 in municipal court, South San Francisco. Hearing and sentencing will be March 22.

INCENTIVE—A beautiful red headed doll was enough to inspire Michael Galindo, a six-month-old toddler, into hot pursuit. Michael clambered onto a table loaded down with prizes to be offered March 18 winners of the Daly City Doll Show contest at the War Memorial Community Center. Six feature prizes will be given away as well as some 75 ribbons. Each girl will receive a merit award. At least 800 girl "itsy bitsies" through adults entered last year's contest. The chairman is Mrs. Ruth Galindo. Michael is the son of Mrs. Ruth and Police Sgt. Jerry Golindo, Jr., 244 Acton street, Daly City.

Central American Education

Honduras, The Banana Republic

by Paris Simmons

Honduras, known as the "Banana Republic," is approximately the same size as the state of Tennessee. It has an area of 43,277 square miles, including a coast line of 440 miles, a width of 400 miles and length of 200 miles.

By deep contrast, Honduras, which is a sister nation of El Salvador, is not over populated. It has only one-half the number of residents as does the State of Tennessee. The villages are much further apart than in any other Central American Republic, and it contains but 95 miles of the Pan American Highway.

Due to the Inter-American Highway route, it is possible to journey through Honduras in a few short hours. Even a trip to the capital, Tegucigalpa, will mean a side trip for the tourist, in which there will be awarded an opportunity to travel steep winding, unpaved roads, equally as hazardous as the El Tapon of Guatemala.

Little Time

In view of the fact that the tourist spends little time in Honduras, a 48 hour visa will generally provide the necessary permission for visiting this country. However, if the 48 hour stay is extended, the tourist on arrival at a departure border, may find it necessary to return to the Capital to obtain additional papers to allow for his exit. This delay may well be lengthened if on a weekend or during a siesta hour. Should a visitor recognize the possibility of overstaying the visa time, he should obtain the additional papers necessary for exit while in the capital.

The currency used in Honduras is called the "lempira." This name comes from an Indian Chief who had many fights against the conquering Spanish. The Honduras dollar is based on 100 cents (centavos). Currently it is worth 506 50c U.S. Currency.

While only eight hours were spent in this republic by the writer, there remains several incidents which might give insights into this country for those desiring to explore a most interesting nation.

Inspection

The first of these incidents occurred at the border, where, for the first time since the start of the journey by the four Benjamin Franklin teachers, the scooters were thoroughly inspected. Undoubtedly, this came as a result of a language barrier. When asked what was in the scooters, one of the teachers answered, "Many things." The Customs officials interpreted this to mean machine guns, and an inspection followed. Honduras, as were the other two countries discussed, is militarily alert.

The next incident occurred just after passing the border. Stopping at a gas station, a school was observed, and the teachers stopped to watch what appeared to be a line up of students. The children were paired off in front of the school building, approximately 300 in number. Two civilian teachers were in command. All were dressed in white. After much milling around, and general organization by the teachers, the students started marching down the highway, with a large religious sign at the head of the group. Investigation with the service station employees disclosed that the group was marching to meet another school three miles distant for observance of a religious nature.

Camera Expose

The final scene, or incident, was on the flight back to the U. S. Arriving at the airport in the capital, armed guards entered the plane and threatened to expose the film of a camera being used by two citizens of Mexico. While it might seem to the reader that this was a minor incident, the flight personnel explained that the trip home could have been delayed several hours, had the military insisted, and that all the films could have been destroyed that were in the plane.

Perhaps, it may seem that the writer is not sympathetic or understanding of the problems of this country. This is not so. Honduras has many interesting sites. Unfortunately, the highway prevents a thorough exploration of the country. The people are as hospitable and kind as that of any other country in Central America. They are proud of their nation as they have a right to be. Christopher Columbus discovered this country on his last voyage to the new world, and while he took various reminders back with him, he left a jewel that should be treasured by all of the Latin American countries.

The Sport Scene

Lawyers, Banks And Whiskey

IN 1869 THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR, the first labor union of any stature in this country, decided that strength indeed was in numbers and they would open their ranks to anyone that would support them. Almost anyone that is.

There were four professions of such particular odiousness that the Knights wanted no part of them. They were, in order, bankers, lawyers, dealers in whiskey and writers.

Now I don't bruise easily, but believe me THAT hurts. And to come in last in a group like that.

The old Knights were men of action. But they fancied themselves as businessmen too. They held fast to the old saw about acting like men of thought and thinking like men of action. Only sometimes their position was that thought was unthinkable.

They held that only men who produced things were good. There had to be a product. An apple, shoes or a machine. Something you could buy or sell, eat, wear or use. And that the trouble with society was that there were too many people who lived off the sweat of others.

Writers, worse even than whiskey-dealers, were the dregs of society. Apart from not producing anything themselves, they were critical of what WAS produced. Their own product was useless, perishable and generated no flow of income. The author was a scullion and a sirrah to be run out whenever he showed his scrofulous face.

The greatest of the nineteenth century — Melville, Poe, London, were abused, ignored and died penniless.

* * * *

BUT THEN CAME THE REDEEMER; the golden visaged savior that plucked the poor author from the eagle's talons. This infant, born along with the present century, is what has come to be known as Sport. And for whatever the reasons, it has grown bigger than any of us.

Sport brought into existence what we call the Sporting Page, and since the heroes needed someone who could write about them, along came we — called sportswriters. This new job for the most part consisted of interviewing athletes and reporting what they had for breakfast, how they thought they would do this year and if they drink. But though it was lowly, there were certain redeeming qualities. For instance it enabled us to eat again.

That Sport has its place cannot be denied. There are even those who believe that it is important enough to put the Sports Page on the front page, and it, in turn, ought to recede to some hidden corner inside. The index will remain to help you find it. You know, turn to page ten and read all about the nuclear war declared today.

I even noticed during the last campaign that Richard Nixon reads the Sports Page first in the morning. That's homey, but I don't find it very comforting.

* * * *

HOWEVER, LEST IT BE THOUGHT that we reporters of the sportive life truly are nothing but fat leeches who live of the God-appointed talents of others and can really do nothing ourselves, I have a revelation to bring. This Saturday night I have been invited by certain athletes of San Mateo County to participate in a basketball game . . . well, not really a game but a free throw contest. Whatever that is.

The scene for this debacle is going to be the Big Basketball Night at Hillsdale High that absolutely EVERYBODY is going to attend. Proceeds will send 50 handicapped kids to the snow.

And oh, is this thing going to swing. Queens, pom-pom girls, bands, banners, coaches, athletes, awards, principals and sportswriters. Oh, the honor of it all. Not one banker, lawyer or whiskey-dealer there, and absolutely thousands of sportswriters. All over the place. All this the work of a jovial lad by the name of Glen Smith, chief of this county's recreation services.

* * * *

AND THIS HAS SIMPLY GOT TO be the greatest idea I've ever heard of. To give these handicapped kids a chance to DO. To enjoy, enjoy. Sure they've got great facilities and teachers, but how many have ever climbed out of the wheelchair to play in the snow.

Saturday, March 10, 7:30 p.m., Hillsdale High School gym. Admission is free, but why not bring a couple of dollars along anyway.

(And will somebody please tell me how I throw a free or free a throw or whatever you do when you do that, so that it looks like I understand all this stuff that I write about).

Jeff Drops 2 In Final Games

Close Loss At S. City

In a Friday game typically close for these two rivals, the South San Francisco Warriors redeemed an early season loss to Jefferson by nipping the Indians, 46-43.

Peninsula League player of the year Dick Drake led the victors with a remarkable display of team play—setting up plays, clearing the boards and chipping in with 16 points on the attack. He tied the Indians' Rich Reitz for high point honors in the contest.

In the final seconds, with the Warriors leading only 43-42, a missed shot from the free-throw mark by Reitz was grabbed by Warrior Don Stout, and after a three-point play by Jim Dombroski the game was out of reach for the Indians at 46-42.

Jefferson suffered from the absence of guard Darwin Haanen, and, according to coach Mike Orlich was forced to alter the attack considerably. Substitute Wayne Crane filled in admirably and tied with center Don Boden for second place scoring honors for Jeff with nine points.

The lightweights distributed the scoring evenly among the five starters to salvage the night with a 47-43 win. Coach Rick Warne's team ended with a 6-12 record, exactly doubling the varsity's number of victories.

Mills

In last Wednesday's game against the red-hot Mills Vikings, the Indians kept even with their well-schooled visitors for there periods only to go under to a 21 point fourth quarter Mills splurge.

Mills won the game, 55 to 40, for the team's sixth in a row.

Twenty-six points by Gary Neese topped the scoring efforts. Don Boden was high for Jefferson with 17 points.

The game started slowly with the Vikings holding narrow 8-7 and 19-16 first period and halftime leads. It was only 34-30 at the three-quarter mark, but then Mills ran away. The Indians' shooting was off during this last period, and though they took as many shots as the visitors, few of them fell in.

Behind Boden in Jeff scoring were Reitz with 14 points and Haanen with seven.

The Viking lightweights made it a clean sweep by downing Jeff, 40-39. Steve Willis led the scoring for the losers with 13 points. He was followed by Skip Del Sarto with 12 points and Dan Luciano with 11.

Crocker - Pershing PTA Meet March 12

The Crocker - Pershing PTA will hold its monthly unit meeting on Tuesday, March 12, at 8 p. m. in the multi-use room of the George Washington school at 251 Whittier.

D. Sagner of Jefferson Elementary School district will be the speaker of the evening. His topic will be "Emotionally Disturbed Children." A question and answer period will follow. It is desired that this meeting be limited to adults only.

The hostesses for refreshments will be the fourth grade mothers.

The Zanetta House at San Juan Bautista was built in 1868.

Rec Rolling At Franklin

The first square dance held by the Benjamin Franklin-Garden Village recreation department was a huge success. There were over 150 boys and girls that took part in the dance. The dance tied in with the dance instruction being given in the physical education classes. All seventh and eighth grade youngsters have three weeks of dancing: one square, one folk and one social. This week two dance contests will be held.

On Wednesday, March 7, the seventh grade will hold its dance contest in the multi-purpose room after school, and the eighth grade will have its contest on Friday, March 9, after school. All parents are welcome to attend.

A tournament was held on the final day of basketball. In the first game Karl Fleischauer scored 25 of his team's 39 points to win a close game from Bob Langsam's team. Langsam was high for the losers with 20 points. In the second game, Andy Ehat's team downed Kevin Pringle's team by a lopsided score of 43-14. High point honors went to Craig Hughes and Nick Budea, who both had 17 points for the winners. In the final game, Andy Ehats' team won

BB Night Set For Saturday

Saturday night at Hillsdale High School, the big "Tip-Off" basketball night for the benefit of the handicapped children of San Mateo County will get off at 7:30 with the introduction of coaches and queens from the Peninsula League teams.

At precisely 8 p. m., the "highlight" of the evening will commence. This will be a basketball game between the coaches of North PL teams and those of South PL teams. The Jefferson contingent will feature the talents of football coach Joe McGrath and lightweight basketball coach Rick Warne. The North team's scoring loss will be its tactical gain as head basketball coach Mike Orlich will mentor the squad.

Adding some amusement to the quarter breaks of the coaches' game will be free throw contests between high school principals, and another between Peninsula sportswriters.

The championship basketteams from PL competition will receive trophies from Donna Ray, Miss Pacifica, and Lynette Fishel, Miss Daly City. The Jefferson champion 110 team will be presented, as will the San Mateo Varsity champions.

All the All-League selections from the league will be introduced. Bands, pom-pom girls and yell leaders representing all PL teams will be present.

Saturday night, March 10, at Hillsdale High School, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

BE-YOO-TI-FUL Donna Ray, Miss Pacifica, will present to Mike Orlich and his league champion 110 weight team the championship trophy this Sunday at Hillsdale High School. Donna shows the trophy to Mike and Jeff cheerleaders Sue Friere and Judie Reginelli in this pre-presentation meeting. The big basketball night is being sponsored to send the mentally and physically handicapped children of San Mateo County to the snow. Starts at 7:30 p.m.

DC All Stars Whallop South SF For Title

The outstanding basketball players from the sixth, seventh and eighth grade basketball leagues in Daly City and South San Francisco played an unusual type of tournament game last Saturday. Six teams competed in a nine-period game with the total score deciding which city triumphed.

The first three period portion of the game was played by the sixth grade All Stars of both communities. Starring for Daly City was Bob Nolan of the champion PAL Bears. Nolan collected six points. Ron Cassery of the Bears, Jim Duryea and Steve Green of the OLM Hurricanes and Rich Hall of the OLPH Hilltoppers contributed two points each to overshadow South San Francisco, 14-4. Steve Jones and Paul Lee sharted in the scoring honors for Suth San Francisco. Assisting the scoring stars with fine offensive and defensive play for Daly City were Barry Perrone, Gene Dalparto, Greg King, Paul Henneger, Mike Plyer, Steve Gudelj, John Conwell, Ray Mathis and Stan Rediotes.

Seventh All Stars

With a 10 point lead, the seventh grade All Stars took to the court. Mike Parodi of the OLPH Crusaders led the Daly City All Stars in extending the lead to 23 points. Parodi's five points, combined with the scoring efforts of Andy Siordia, Duane Morin, Matty De Bernardi, Jeff Long, Mike Madigan, Nick Budea, Ted Shaddox, Keith Stoller, Mike Wynne and Ron Mini put the game score at Daly City 37-14. Helping to build the lead for Daly City by feeding the scorers were Sal De Lucca, Dave Rodondi, Tino Salzano, Reed Rosenberg and Mario Blandi. Mike Lloyd, Don Drake and Larry Alsterline collected 10 points for South San Francisco.

Eighth All Stars

The final portion of the game was played by the eighth grade All Stars. South San Francisco really surged forward. Joe Casselli and Jim Henry led the South San Francisco All Stars up to within 11 points of Daly City's lead. Casselli was outstanding on the backboards and Henry was high point man of the game with eight points.

In the last period, Coaches Gustafson and Brewer let loose with the heavy guns. Joe Richmond, Jim Cook, John Monroe and Ross Davis dominated the play. They added to the scoring of Bob Reese, Make Garcia, Butch Chalmers and John Heick to push the score to Daly City 60, South San Francisco34.

Also helping to ice the game for Daly City were Bill Mason, Bob Nash, Don Scannel, Bob Hood and Don Lippi. All the players gave their city good reason to be proud of the athletic ability of their youth.

Dally City players exhibited great skill and a smoothness

Westmoor's Daniels On All PL-League Five

No-Hit Game Pitched By BYA Hurler

The BYA Art Colvin Juniors opened the Parkmerced league season Saturday with a no-hit shutout of OLM, 10-0. Ron Stefani struck out 11 and allowed only two balls to be hit out of the infield. He faced one over the minimum of 21 batters, and gave up only one walk.

Lee Williams, Grek Grenk, Tom Olsen and Rex Arnott led the BYA batting attack.

Westmoor Loses To Champs

One bad quarter, the third, ruined the Rams last Wednesday against the champion San Mateo Bearcats.

San Mateo took a narrow 32-29 lead into this period, and eight minutes later led, 57-37. Westmoor came back with 22 fourth period points, but could not catch up.

Thus in both games with the champs, the Rams went down the same way. One bad quarter. In the first game, San Mateo came from behind in the fourth period to win it, 66-62.

A combination of 6-6 center Tom Wilson on the boards and dead-eye Willie Colter from the floor sewed it up for the winners. Wilson continually cleared the boards, set up Colter and controlled the tip-ins. Colter was deadly on all shots.

For Westmoor's Rams, Steve Schmuck was high for the first time this season with 14 points. He was followed by Gary Allard with 12 and Mike Daniels with 11. Colter was high for the game with 23 points, followed by Wilson with 17 and Bob Griggs with 12.

Terra Nova

Against a helpless Terra Nova team, the Rams closed out thir season with a 73-41 victory. Mike Daniels, the Rams' only all-league selection, plunked in 20 points to lead the Rams to the win.

The game was never close. Westmoor quickly built up a 16-6 first period lead and stretched it to 38-18 at the half. Substituting freely in the third period, coach Tony Giammona tried to even things a little, but the substitutes were hitting, too. Nine boys ended up in the scoring column for the Rams.

Behind Daniels came Allard with 13, Schmuck and Jim Lucke with 10 each, and Jack Kelly with eight.

The lightweights won an equally easy preliminary, 47-21.

Horsehide Season Is Here

Precluding rain-outs both the Westmoor and Jefferson High School baseball teams get rolling this week with the season's first practice games.

Both teams will be trying new men in new positions. Westmoor, last year's Peninsula league champs, lost all but four men off the championship team. All-league selections Harry Krohn, Terry Christman and Rich Morales all have departed.

The Indians are faced with similar problems. Jefferson has only six returnees from last year's third-place finishers.

Coach Rod Losberger at Westmoor is counting heavily on lettermen Mike Daniels, Steve Funai, Steve Payette and Scott Shackelford to try and defend the Rams' title. But most of his miseries are caused by the dearth of moundsmen. With the graduation of Krohn and Christman, Losberger lost a combined record of 10 wins and only one loss. No pitcher of record returns from last year.

While coach Steve Mezzera has fewer problems at Jeff, they are of the same order. Too few lettermen. Mezzera will be counting on last year's all-league selection Rich Reitz, .380, in left field, to lead the attack. Number one pitcher is football quarterback Bob Miller. Mike Rovai at second base, Mezzera calls "the best in the league." Other returnees are Bob Brush, Al Cacicedo and Dan Luciano,.

Tentative line-ups are:

Westmoor:
Contreras, second base
Funai, shortstop
Hix, third base
Daniels, first base
Payette, catcher
Mendoza, center field
Shackelford, right field
Brown, pitcher

Jefferson:
Easley, first base
Rovai, second base
Bailey, third base
Keeling, shortstop
Reitz, left field
Morton, center field
Restivo, right field
Cacicedo, catcher
Miller, pitcher

Rec. Dept. Sets Basketball Awards Night

Members of the Daly City Recreation Department's basketball league's first place, second place and third place teams will receive recognition Friday night, March 9, at 7 o'clock at the War Memorial Community Center. Awards will be presented by Mayor Robert St. Clair and other distinguished citizens.

The annual Awards Night will feature the return of the Daly City Roadrunners. Still smarting from last year's defeat at the hands of the Daly City All Stars, the Roadrunners are looking forward to avenging their honor. Coaches of the teams from the league comprise the personnel of the Roadrunners. Roadrunner Earthquake Pedroni (20 pounds lighter this year) said, "The All Stars were lucky last year—this year we'll murder 'em." The All Stars have in turn replied, "Lots of luck."

League players, children, parents and the general public are invited to attend this affair. Admission is free.

Jeff's Reitz Also Named

Mike Daniels, Westmoor's senior forward, was named Monday to the Peninsula Sportswriters Association's first team All - Peninsula League basketball team for 1962. Daniels joins "Player of the Year" Dick Drake from South San Francisco, and Bob Griggs, San Mateo; John Peterson, Burlingame, and John Stoscher, Hillsdale, on the All-PL starting five.

Rich Reitz, Jefferson senior forward, gained honorable mention in the balloting.

Drake, South San Francisco's record-shattering scorer ended gaining the most support for Player of the Year honors. He wound up his prep career last Friday with a total of 358 points in 18 games, an average of 20 per game. The big senior set a league record in one game against San Mateo when he scored 34 points.

Coach of the Year award went to Eddie Diaz of Aragon. Diaz brought his Don team home with a 9-9 mark, an admirable record for a team playing its first year in the league and going without any seniors. The other new team in the league, Terra Nova, played with considerably less success.

Daniels, Westmoor's leading scorer, ended with a total of 262 points in 18 games, an average of 14.5 per game. The Ram's six foot right forward gained support not only for his scoring (sixth in the league), but for his ball handling and leadership as well. Always driving and hustling, Mike was easily the backbone of the high-scoring Westmoor club.

A graduating senior in June, Daniels is expected to be the mainstay of coach Rod Losberger's baseball team this spring. He goes at first base and has lettered in both sports.

Reitz, Jefferson's leading scorer, and eleventh ranked in the league, gained one of the five honorable mention spots. Playing on a club that won only three games, Reitz still managed to be among the league's highest scorer.

Lightweights

On the 130 weight squads the fourth place Westmoor lightweights placed Tito Torres on the second team All PL. Torres scored 150 points to help his team gain the first division. Going at center for the lightweights, Torres is being groomed by coach Tony Giammona to take over a forward position for next year's varsity.

From the Jeff lightweights, soph Steve Willis gained honorable mention for his play. Steve, figuring big in Indian coach Mike Orlich's plans for next year, dropped in 143 points during the season, leading his mates in scoring.

The Peninsula Sportswriters Association's balloting included representatives from the newspapers in Daly City, South San Francisco, San Bruno, Burlingame and Millbrae.

Tom Dixon Wins SF Golf Title

Tom Dixon of 10 Pacifica avenue, Daly City, is the San Francisco City golf champion for 1962.

Dixon, 33, a United Markets meat buyer, defeated Ed Castagnetto, a former City titlist at Harding Park last Sunday for the title, 6 and 5.

For Dixon it was the climax of an 11-year golfing career that has seen him win the Harding Park championship three times, but never before capture the City title.

A crowd of several thousand watched the youthful Dixon battle the veteran Castagnetto over the tough course. No pars were broken. In the end it was putting that decided it.

A trio of three-putt holes for Castagnetto gave Dixon the winning margin.

Other victors were Janis Ferraris, 14, becoming the youngest women's City champ by beating Alfarnia Skadden, 9 and 8; and Dick Lotz, becoming the youngest City medalist by turning back sponsor Bob Roos on the second extra hole of a playoff after both had tied with 76 after the scheduled 18 holes.

TV and RADIO

By Mona Baker

"Of all the art forms that we have had nothing remotely comes up to the potential of television," commented Red Serling, creater of television's outstanding dramatic series "Twilight Zone" (CBS, KPIX, Fri. 10 p.m.) speaking before a joint dinner meeting of the California Writers Club and the San Francisco chapter of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. Mr. Serling speaks forcefully and sometimes quite critically about television programing in general. But behind his remarks we could sense his geninue concern and fervent desire that this great medium be used wisely.

Certainly Mr. Serling's own impact as a writer on television has been tremendous. He is a five-times Emmy winner—his script "Patterns" won three major awards, an Emmy, Sylvania, and the Christopher prize. Also he was awarded two Emmys for "Playhouse 90" scripts and two for "Twilight Zone." He is the first television writer to receive a Peabody award.

We were privileged to chat briefly with Mr. Serling before his speech and we found him a most intelligent and dynamic individual. We discussed television viewing habits of children and he said that he checks very carefully the programs his own children watch.

Good news is that KGO-TV's outstanding educational series "Expedition California" is now being shown over KQED's "Instructional Television Service" directed toward 4th grade history classes. The Channel 7 documentary series relates California history in an extremely effective and lively presentation which certainly will hold the interest of the youngsters.

Since its beginning over KGO-TV, the documentary series has won many awards including one from the National Education Association which gave the show an "Award of Honor" for the methods of cooperation it developed in working with Bay Area school systems.

TV DATES TO MARK ON YOUR CALENDAR: Sunday March 25, over NBC, KRON-TV, full hour TV portrait of the First Lady titled "The World of Jacqueline Kennedy."

KPIX's excellent documentary series "Works of Darkness" will document traffic in narcotics in the Bay Area on March 8, 10:30 p.m.

Two new programs premiering over KQED: "Japan, the Changing Years" will be seen on Wednesdays at 9 p.m. Also a first in the history of television will be a standard first aid course leading to a First Aid certificate debuting March 8 over Channel 9 with double showings, Tuesdays 4 p.m. and Thursdays 7:30 p.m.

KQO-TV is busy with preparations for a "Tennessee Ernie Ford Day" in San Francisco on Mach 21. This is the day Ernie begins video-taping the first of his new daily series which premieres April 2 over the ABC network on stations throughout the nation. Free tickets are available for the daly telecasts which will be video-taped in Channel 7 studios, Tuesday through Thursday. For tickets send a pre-addressed stamped envelope to Ernie Ford Show, KGO-TV, San Francisco.

Vista Grande PTA To Meet March 15

Vista Grande-Thornton PTA has scheduled an interesting program for its next regular meeting on March 15. It will be held in the multi-use room of the Vista Grande School at 7:30 p.m.

Election of officers of the unit for the coming year will be foremost on the agenda. Parents and teachers will then participate in an open discussion on homework.

Flag ceremony and entertainment will be provided by Brownie Troop 579. This troop consists of 30 third grade girls from Vista Grande and OLPH Schools.

It is sponsored by Vista Grande-Thornton PTA and is under the leadership of Mrs. A. Liberato, Mrs. J. Rush and Mrs. L. Bizjak.

DC Girl Enters March Queen Esther Contest

The third annual Queen Esther contest and Coronation Ball, the feature attraction of the annual Purim Festival of the Northern California Jewish National Fund, the "Jewish Mardi Gras," will take place on Sunday evening, March 18, at 6:30 o'clock at the San Francisco Scottish Rite auditorium, Van Ness at Sutter.

Fifteen girls have been entered by their sponsoring organizations to participate in the pageant which will be staged by the House of Charm, and to vie for a galaxy of valuable prizes.

The event, open to the public, will benefit the JNF's important land reclamation and referostation projects in Israel, and assist in the settlement of thousands of refugees to the young Middle East democracy.

The world-famous JNF Blue Box will be cleared that evening and anyone not holding a box is asked by chairman Vernon Kaufman to request one by contacting the JNF regional office, 46 Kearny street, telephone YU 6-1427.

A small donation of $1 per person will be made to include the stage presentation, dancing to Del Courtney and his orchestra and the personal appearance of Israeli movie actress Ziva Rodann. Traditional Purim refreshments are also included.

Reservations should be made ahead of time as the event usually attracts over 2,000 persons. Call the JNF office for tickets.

Thank City For Prompt Aid In Recent Storm

Mayor Bob St. Clair
City Hall
Daly City, California

Dear Mayor St. Clair:

Now that the storm crisis has passed and some order has been restored at the Stanghellini residence, my wife and I are taking time out to express our sincere appreciation to you and the other city officials (and neighbors) who came to our rescue when the earth slide threatened to destroy our home and that of our neighbors.

When we called you on February 12, we were desperate. We already had called other people we thought should be interested in helping but their main concern was to find out whether it was going to cost them anything. By contrast, your only thought seemed to be: "What can we do?"

By calling the emergency crews to cover the mass of moving earth and then rolling up your sleeves to pitch in and help check the slide, you saved our property from complete destruction.

Never have we been treated with more kindness and consideration. Your concern and the immediate action of the various city crews who worked so hard to help us in our time of need have given us new pride in our community and faith in our city government.

This feeling is shared by the Payne family and their friends in neighboring Broadmoor, who also faced disaster and learned from your example the real meaning of Brotherhood.

With heartfelt thanks,
Mr. and Mrs.
Thomas J. Stanghellini

Bethel 198 Elects Marshal

At the Jan. 26 meeting of Bethel 198, International Order of Job's Daughters, Janice Keith was elected to the office of marshal. A special installation ceremony followed, with Miss Gwenn Harris, PHQ, as the installing officer. The newly elected marshal was installed along with Mary Merkel as inner guard.

The Feb. 9 meeting was honored by the presence of the deputy, Mrs. Stella Jensen, on her official inspection visit.

Feb. 26 was a regular official inspection night with a fashion show following. The girls modeled appropriate dress for Grand and Supreme conventions. The models were Patricia Layne, Joanne Jacobson, Susan Kirschner, Mary Merkel, Linda Long, Rae Ann Wilson, Margie Felser, Janice Garretson, Judi Willoughby, Fredrica Klemm and Janice Long. The commentator was Janice Keith.

Brownie Troop 248 Dance With Fathers Held On Feb. 13

On the evening of February 13 girls of brownie scout troop 248 invited their fathers to a very informal dinner-dance at the coral room of the Daly City War Memorial Community Center.

Mrs. William Hopkins, assistant leader, was chairman of refreshments and planned a buffet dinner.

All the mothers of the troop contributed to the meal. Mothers helping Mrs. Hopkins during the evening were Mrs Daniel Benard, Mrs. Joseph George, Mrs. William Pope, Mrs. Frederick Daly, assistant leader, and Mrs. Clarence Baumhefner, leader.

The tables were decorated with hearts and flowers and the girls entertained their escorts with songs and dances—from the charleston to the twist.

The fathers were apt students of the twist and everyone twisted splendidly by the end of the evening.

The brownies attending with their escorts were Kathy Benard, Bonnie Baumhefner, Christine Cannon, Lily Cortes, Patricia Crandall, Julia Daly, Nancy Feldman, Kathleen George, Nancy Hopkins, Kathryn Kazas, Paula Pope, Jean Ratto, Christine Romani, Stephanie Sklavos, Carol Stein, and Valerie Sopher.

Bethels To Meet With Grand Guardian

Bethels 94, 51, 107 and 3, will all take part in the Grand Guardians official visit to be held on March 10, 7:15 at Golden Gate Masonic Temple, 14th avenue and Taraval street.

THIS IS KAY PETERSON of Redwood City atop one of the entries in the California State Championship drag races set to go March 10 and 11 at Half Moon Bay. Miss Peterson is the event's "Theme Girl."

State Drag Champions To Go Sat.

The drag racing season will be highlighted at Half Moon Bay drag strip this Saturday and Sunday, March 10 and 11, when the nation's top champions gather to compete for the California State speed championship.

The California State championship for fuel and gas will present a "Who's Who" of racers running the nation's finest machinery for the biggest prizes in drag racing. Cash and merchandise awards to be distributed March 11 total over $15,000.

Included in the car and driver line-up expected for the big meet are Mickey Thompson, the world's fastest man; Pete Robinson, 1961 national champion; Don Garlits Speed Shop, world speed holder for four consecutive years; Champion Speed Shop, Northern California's No. 1 team.

Gas Ronda, king of the super-stocks; Adam-McEwen, Kent Fuller, Connie Kallita, the drag master team from Hawaii; Slim Sumner, Fuller-Zueschel, Hayden Proffitt and Fred Salisbury. Over 200 entries from 33 states (including Hawaii) have already arrived and the list is still growing.

All the attention will not be focused on the cars alone during the championships, at least not when 9-year-old Miss Kay Peterson of Redwood City is around. Miss Peterson, a part-time model, won the Miss Palo Alto contest recently and was a participant for the Miss California title in the Miss Universe contest. She has been chosen as the official Theme Girl and will reign as queen over the championship races.

The gates will open at 8 a. m. Saturday, and at 6 a. m. Sunday with eliminations for all stock classes and all sports classes set for Saturday. Sunday will be devoted strictly to the competition classes, dragsters, roadsters, coupes, etc. Eliminations will start at 2:30 p. m. both Saturday and Sunday and entries are expected to reach the 600 mark by opening time Saturday.

The Half Moon Bay drag strip is 26 miles south of San Francisco on Coast Highway No. 1, at the Half Moon Bay airport.

YWCA Starts A Girl Drive

In the belief that today's young family woman is its best source of potential leadership, the YWCA of North San Mateo County is launching a March membership drive to recruit more of them to its local program.

The drive is being spearheaded by the local YWCA committee under the chairmanship of Betty Rodman. Participating in the drive will be the mothers of youngsters enrolled in the YWCA's local pre-school play program. Mothers from each kiddie class will work in teams, competing to bring in the largest number of new memberships. A party will be given to honor the winning team.

Team captains for the membership drive are: Alice Milinari, Leona Salzman, Dorothy Jones, Carol Meister, Jocelyn Adler, Ernestine Forcum, Annabelle Piercy, Carman Ploss, Rosemarie Waterhouse, Virginia Bispo, and Lola Jose.

The YWCA's creative group play program for youngsters in this area is unique for the YWCA. It was organized by the local YW women because they felt it would fill a real local need. It has become one of the most popular of the YWCA's local activities. There is often a waiting list for enrollment. The current membership drive has as its goal the recruitment of more local YW leadership so that more activities can be offered. YWCA membership costs only $3 a year for adults, $1 for teen-agers.

Vista Mar Principal Cited As Life Member

Miss Marjorie Tobias, principal of Vista Mar School, was recipient of a unique award Feb. 13 from Vista Mar PTA. She was presented a National PTA honorary life membership from Dr. Vinton Stratton. again, 16-14, for the tournament championship. Nick Budean was again high for the winners with eight points, and for the losers, Bob Langsam had six points.

For the next three weeks, starting Saturday, March 10, coed volleyball will be the feature of the day. Any boys or girls in the seventh or eighth grades are welcome to come and participate. Games will start at 10:30 each Saturday morning.

Corned Beef Dinner Set By Mater Dolorosa

A St. Patrick's Day Corned Beef and Cabbage Dinner-Dance is being planned by Mater Dolorosa.

It will be held on Saturday March 17, at the South San Francisco Rod and Gun Club, located at the end of Butler road, starting with cocktails at 6:30 p.m. and dinner at 7:30 p.m., and followed by dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. to the music of Ernie Oreste's Starlites.

Working on the dinner-dance committee as co-coordinators will be Mrs. Russell Rodgers and Milt Kerrigan, ably assisted by Mrs. Sam Balestieri, Mrs. Richard Lynch, Mrs. Gene Steers, Mrs. Lee Heise, Mrs. Nick Ferrante, Lou De Vita and Bret Kennedy.

Jim Smith, Jack Callero and Jack Shalabba will serve as chefs for the dinner.

Tickets for the dinner are limited, so make your reservations early by calling Mrs. Richard Lynch, 142 Dundee drive, ticket chairman. Dance tickets are unlimited.

St. Patrick's Day Plans At OLPH School

Daly City's time honored observance of St. Patrick'c Day on Saturday, March 17, will be held in Our Lady of Perpetual Help School auditorium.

The festivities, to which everyone is invited, will begin at 5 p. m. with dinner being served until 8 o'clock, follolwed by entertainment and dancing. The committee takes on the complexion of Notre Dame's Fighting Irish, all of whom, with the exception of the honorary chairman, Father Matthew Sullivan, trace their ancestry to practically every nationality under the sun.

The chef in charge of the dinner, Robert Battaglia, is a descendant of the famous purveyors to the House of Savoy.

The "adopted sons of Erin" assisting in the arrangements are Michael Gudelj, Guy Gargiulo, Fred Klinger, Peter Lofrano, Walter Mignault, Ben Parodi, Ernest Reyes, George Calegari, Milan Stanley, Joseph Spinetti and Roy Thomson.

As ample accommodations have been provided, advance reservations will not be required. Tickets are $1.50 for adults, 75 cents for children and will be on sale at the door.

Proceeds form dinner-dance will benefit the building fund of Mater Dolorosa.

Local Girl Scouts Make 50th Golden Jubilee Plans

The Girl Scouts 50th Golden Jubilee celebrations are gaining momentum with the March 12 date just around the corner.

Girl Scouts of the district will have various displays in both of the Daly City libraries. Mrs. Helene Mori's Senior Scouts are in charge.

On Sunday, March 11, the beginning of Girl Scout Week, special church services will be held in many of the Daly City churches and synagogues, announced elsewhere in this newspaper.

The Daly City War Memorial building will be the locale for a festive potluck dinner held by the Parkview and Junipero Serra neighborhoods for all registered Scout adults of the Girl Scouts.

The San Mateo County Girl Scout Council will hold a tea on the afternoon of March 17.

April 28 will be the date for the Scouts-in-Action demonstration-exhibition put on by a thousand Girl Scouts of this district.

Happy birthday anniversary is wished for Girl Scouts and leaders of the district.

Movie Set For March ORT Meet

The next meeting of the northern peninsula chapter of women's american ort will be held on Thursday evening, March 8, 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Raymond Bergman, 682 Miramar avenue, San Francisco.

"Secret Journey" will be shown, and Mr. Nat Starr, a member of the campaign staff of the Jewish Welfare Federation, will be guest speaker.

Refreshments and social hour will follow meeting. Guests are cordially invited to attend.

Rag Drive Set By Hillsade PTA Group

Hillside PTA of Colma K-6 and Colma Intermediate Schools will hold its annual rag drive on April 13.

Bags for the rags will be sent home with students shortly before the collection date. Parents are asked to save all discarded rags, cottens and woolens and send them to school with the children.

CO-ORDINATORS for the St. Patrick's Day Corned Beef and Cabbage Dinner-Dance planned by Mater Dolorosa are (seated) Mrs. Russell Rodgers and Milt Kerrigan, and (rear) Mrs. Lee Heise, Mrs. Richard Lynch and Mrs. Gene Steers.

It's SPARE TIME

at Westlake Bowl

by Jim Grealish

Wednesday night was a big one for the Daly City Police Department. Not only did their team cinch the title in the Daly City Employees League, but while their wives were bowling, Lieutenant Dave Hanson and Inspector Jim Bergstrom were being shown on two television stations for capturing two brothers after a string of 150 burglaries. After repeatedly striking many Peninsula towns, the brothers were picked up the second time they ventured into Daly City.

Sam Papia had a little conversation with Primo Liberatore then bowled 214-224-184 games for a 622 series to lead the National Masters 900 Scratch League.

Donna Ravetti and Fran Morris were the Westlake representatives on the Tic Tac Bowl program last week when a few stubborn pins prevented them from beating the defending champion.

A new high series for the Mayfair Strike League was established last week as Walt Calais shot a high game of 226 on his way to a 597 series.

George Freyslaben took high game and series honors the hard way in the Southgate Mixed Fives League as he converted the 2-3-10 split and shot a 216 game and 578 series. Mary Hottal led the ladies with 167 and 460.

Reservations continue to pile in for the St. Patrick's Day No-Tap Tournament, Buffet and Dance on March 17. The total cost is only $3 per person and the winning man and lady will each receive a vacation in Las Vegas for two for three days and two nights. Reservations may be made with Rick or Primo.

Wally Williams shot a big 237 middle game in the Golden Gate Handicap followed by a 211 effort which added to his opening game of 179 giving him a 627 total.

Hope to see Toby Giorgetti back in the A-1 Nursery and Broadmoor Post American Legion Leagues soon after her bout with the flu.

It will be all ashore in Westlake for the Navy April 17, 18 and 19 as we will host the 12th Naval District men's and women's bowling championships. Director of athletics and recreation Ben Harris reports that well over 100 entries are expected with each bowler shooting 18 games.

Secretary Joe Maurino took care of all the details of the Country Club League in fine fashion last week, including his bowling, as he shot a 219 game and 587 series.

Betty Coriarty's 551 was more than sufficient to lead the Ladies 785 Scratch League as she posted a high game of 210 pins

Dan Most was just that in the Ball and Chain Mixed Fives as he bowled a 211 game and 593 series while Peg Brown led the ladies with 187 and 510

As the BPAA team handicap tournament came to a close, over 200 teams had competed in the Westlake eliminations. The top 40 teams move into the sectional playoffs next month at Bel Mateo.

A first time weekly winner was recognized last week in the 99'ers Mixed League as Paul Maniescalco posted a 217 game and 584 series.

As the second annual Westlake doubles tournament entered the final week, Bert Heineman and Fred Powers hold on to the lead with their 1720 pin total. Jim Marston and Ralph Ostergren remained in second place with 1718, while Jan and Dick Hayes were in third place with 1715. In the Optional Singles feature, Larry Schulte with 705 held the lead with Les Reams in second place with 692 and Dave Bronstein third with 680.

The 35,000th child to be placed in the nursery was Randy Hawkins, five-year-old son of Mary Jane Hawkins of Leonard's Hair Stylists team in the Morning Glory League. Along with Randy were brothers Jay, 3½, and Bruce, two. Mary Jane has been bowling two years and in addition to the Wednesday morning league she bowls with her husband, Eugene, in the Sunday evening Westlake Wedlocks League. The family will be the guests of Westlake Bowl for dinner as well as receiving other prizes.

Competition was hot and heavy Thursday night for Star of the Night as Ted Hendrickson shot games of 232-234-220 for a 686 series. Chuck York had 247-201-210 for 658, Don Molteni, 247-172-207 for 626; Al Palmer, 177-215-217 for 609, and Bob Boffy 241-188-181 for a 610 total.

O'Haire — Walker — Noonan

Announce Jingle Contest

Citizens Committee For Good Government candidates, Noonan - O'Haire - Walker, will award $100 in cash prizes to the winners of an election jingle contest in which the contestants submit the last line to the following jingle:

"Two Down — One to Go; Now Let's Make it Three-in-a-Row; Noonan-O'Haire and Walker Know How; ....."

The last line must rhyme with "how."

Prizes of $25 will be awarded to winners in each of two categories — children under under 18, and adults, in addition to four $3 prizes in each of the same two categories. All prizes will be in cash. The contest opens on March 12 and closes April 16 at 8 p. m. Contestants may submit as many entries as desired. The purpose of the contest is to acquaint all members of the family with the campaign issues, and to secure a number of original limericks for radio and TV commercials for the closing days of the campaign. Contest winners will be notified in due time to be present at campaign headquarters on the night of the election, at which the cash prizes will be awarded.

With ten candidates in the running, an intensive campaign is being waged throughout Daly City, Westlake and St. Francis Heights, with the largest number of posters ever to vie for space on housefronts, fences, commercial buildings and telephone poles.

Noonan Tells Why He Is A Candidate

Thomas P. Noonan, trustee for the Jefferson Elementary School district and chairman of St. Francis Heights Improvement Association, has issued his first statement outlining his reasons for accepting the nomination to become a candidate for City Council.

Said Noonan: "It is obvious that we are concerned primarily with the perplexing problems of holding taxes down and at the same time providing the best in education for the youth of our city. Under our present system, such a Utopia is impossible of attainment.

"We are faced with an ever-growing number of children who reach school age, and we need more schools and more teachers to educate these children. The more homes we build and the more children we rear, the more schools and teachers we will require. We are top heavy with homes, but we have no light or heavy industry to ease our tax burden. Consequently, each year our taxes go up. It is unfair to parents who voted for higher school taxes in the recent election; they merely wanted to make certain that their children would not be half-educated on a half-session basis. Nor is it fair to blame those who voted against the school tax increase, because these people were trying only to hold taxes down.

"We can do something about our tax structure only after we elect men to the Council who know what to do and how to do it. In the first place, the incumbents have proved that they are whole-heartedly in favor of annexations. They went all-out for the Callan annexation, which could have cost the taxpayer an average increase of $100 per year. The Christen Ranch annexation comes next. Such a scheme can cost even more, as much as $150 per year for each of us.

"In order to defeat the Callan annexation, a special election was required. The cost to the taxpayers was high. There was no practical need for this election. The Council could and should have opposed it in City Hall. Now we will have to go through a similar chain of events when the Christen Ranch annexation question comes before the Council immediately following the forthcoming election.

"We have found from experience that the present Council is 'annexation happy' and we fear that every last member of the Council will vote for the Christen deal.

"This is one of the reasons why I entered the race for Councilman. I am opposed to all annexations, unless and until we find ways and means of requiring the developers to pay an annexation fee, as is now required in other cities, to help lower our present high rate of taxation. Such an annexation tax could pay for a share of our educational requirements, also for much-needed recreational facilities, and for the cost of civic government generally. The entire plan for bringing our taxes into line will be disclosed in the pages of the 'Citizen Defender,' which will be in your mail box each week until election time. Ever since I have been a resident of Daly City, I have studied the needs and wants of our people. I will relate my plans for a new and better city in the 'Citizen Defender'; I seek election to the Council because I can stop the various annextion schemes which are so close to the hearts of the incumbents. I believe these annexations should be soundly and roundly defeated right in our City Council — until such time as we have new laws and ordinances which require the developers to help 'carry the freight.' It will take three new Council members to insure a majority vote against annexations, and I therefore ask the people to vote for all three of the Citizens Committee candidates N-O-W."

"Citizen Defender" Re-Born

Like a Phoenix arising from the still-smouldering ashes of the hotly contested Callan annexation campaign, the little weekly "Citizen Defender" will again spread its wings over the housetops of Daly City, Westlake and St. Francis Heights to deliver its poignant message to the electorate each Monday hereafter. According to Fred J. Walker, one of the three candidates chosen by the Citizens Committee for Good Government to challenge the three incumbents, the "Citizen Defender" is published only during times of emergency, when the welfare of the entire population of our community is at stake.

"We are faced with such an emergency now," says Walker. "The annexation of the big Christen Ranch will bring us just one step closer to the poor-house; it is an even greater menace to the taxpayer than the ill-fated Callan fiasco. The incumbents can shout to the high heavens that they have no plans to annex the Christen Ranch to our tax rolls, but we feel certain that this scheme will be made the first order of business after election day. We, therefore, challenge each and every councilman to come forward with a signed and certified pledge, together with his personal assurance that he is opposed to the annexation and will vote against it in the Council.

"The Christen annexation can cost the taxpayer an average inerease of $150 per year in new taxes, or $50 more per year than the Callan annexation plan could have cost us."

The first issue of "Citizen Defender" will bring the Christen Ranch controversy into the open, according to the spokesman for the Citizens Committee.

Edward P. O'Haire Decries Inexperience of Incumbents

Edward P. O'Haire, attorney for Citizens Committee for Good Government and one of its candidates for City Council, is campaigning on a platform of experience, efficiency and competence in civic government by asking the voters to do no more than compare the qualifications of the Citizens Committee candidates with those of the incumbents.

Says O'Haire: 'Lack of sound, practical business experience is costly to the taxpayer. There is too much at stake in Daly City to put the reins of government into the hands of people who lack the foresight, ability and competence so essential to the proper administration of civic affairs. The time has arrived when all clear-thinking voters should forego party affiliations,, fraternal bonds, alliances and allegiances of every kind, and cast their votes for the men best qualified to serve the people. My platform includes the immediate steps to bring about the formation of a Charter form of government for Daly City.

Such a new, modern system calls for much legal research and legal know-how in its administration. I would like to bring my legal experience into the Council, and I will put my shoulder to the wheels of government and bring about the many changes needed for relief of the taxpayer, large or small. The incumbents have been unable to give us the kind of civic government we need because they lack the necessary qualifications. They have had much time in which to make good their campaign promises. One has served 12 years, another eight.

Even a President of the United States can lawfully serve but eight years. The time has come for a complete change and it can be brought about only if the voters elect all three of the Citizens Committee candidates NOW."

Sheldon M. Prezant

I am for 100 per-cent honest government. As an independent who is proud of the fact that "I Own Myself," you can be assured that I will not take sides with the selfish interests of those who want personal gains or business benefits.

It appalls me to find an "invisible wall" between East and West Daly City. We are all one people under God, and in our American Form of Government we need and must have equal representation for all, regardless where we live, regardless of our race, color, or creed.

I will endeavor to study thoroughly and investigate all factions, zoning, business, residential and industrial potential in future annexations. It is time that our people of Daly City have something given to them, something to help pay our tax bills, instead of the usual taking away and the increases in taxes.

I must maintain and strive for a well-managed government with qualified personnel in all departments to carry through the will of the people. It is my further endeavor to cooperate fully with our municipal government employees in finding methods and procedures to "Hold the Line" on taxes and in everyway possible procure the most for our hard earned tax dollars.

We must, as in successful business practices, recognize initiative, talent, and ability among our many civil service employees and advance them based on these findings.

Our children, God Bless them, must have their futures insured with programs for recreation, community projects, organized teenage functions, and adult guidance when and where needed.

We must as a growing and dynamic city "Open the Door" to attract business and industry in order that the future tax burdens can be shared and balanced on a more even scale.

We must insure that future plans involving large appropriations and expenditures are presented to the poeple so that they are informed of all issues before action is taken for spending or laws enacted to add taxes.

There are, of course, many more issues and problems which confront our Daly City, but as your representative, I want you all to feel the warmth and compassion I have for my friends, my neighbors, their children and for you, my people. It is with this sincere feeling that as your elected councilman, I will always do my best in furthering the advancement of our Daly City.

Edward J. Dennis

More than 50 representatives of organized labor Tuesday night met at the home of Herman Cohn, 250 North Mayfair avenue, to set up a committee to campaign for the re-election of Councilman Edward J. Dennis.

John F. Crowley, well-known labor leader, who has been active in community affairs here, was named chairman of the group.

Crowley said the committee members will make a concerted effort to contact every voter in Daly City between now and the April 10 municipal election.

"We are determined to preserve the progress that has been made in Daly City by returning men like Dennis who have ably and conscientiously represented the voters," he said.

"We have been critical observers of the City Council and are fully aware of the outstanding job that Dennis has done in helping work out solutions to the many problems that have been presented to it."

He pointed out that it was during Dennis' term as mayor that Edward Frank was selected as city manager and that new stability was brought to city administration.

"Daly City is in an enviable position financially," Crowley said. "Dennis has been a strong and constant advocate of the 'pay-as-you-go' policies which have brought this about and has worked diligently to maintain an atmosphere that would encourage the city's continued prosperity."

Crowley said that he would work closely with Lowell E. Durham, Dennis' general campaign manager, and other committee chairmen in an all-out effort to see that the voters get a true and complete picture of local government operation.

"We have a clean, prosperout and growing community which has thrived under the thoughtful programs of the present City Council and we intend to see that these programs are continued," he declared.

Robert St. Clair

Mayor Robert B. St. Clair this week called upon votes of Daly City to seek "truth and fact" in the April 10 city election campaigns.

"It's easy to make general complaints against incumbents by using the time-worn phrases of 'lower taxes' and 'clean up city hall'," St. Clair said. "But in the case of Daly City they simply do not apply, and since there is no rule compelling candidates to stick to the facts, we must caution all thoughtful people to look beyond the bromides and catchy phrases and be guided by that information that can be proven accurate."

The mayor was referring to the opponents' general and misleading statements on taxes, including their promise to overhaul the local school tax program.

"This is a deliberate attempt to confuse people," St. Clair said. "The schools are an area in which the City Council has absolutely no jurisdiction. Most people, of course, are aware of that the City Council has no business interferring in school affairs."

He pointed out that Daly City is operating on a balanced budget and a pay-as-you-go fiscal policy which has resulted in a bonded indebtedness of less than one per cent — the lowest municipal indebtedness in California.

"Our current tax rate of $1.48 per $100 of assessed valuation is as low as is consistent with sound financial practice and is among the lowest in the state for cities of comparable size," St. Clair added.

"We are enjoying stability in city administration and we are proud of the performance of all municipal departments. Your elected officials have striven to provide the incentive and leadership necessary to make Daly City a model community.

We have fought to protect the rights of each citizen, have programmed current and future work and have directed the use of financial procedures which have placed the city in a sound position."

St. Clair added that his campaign will deal only in facts and such other information as can be supported by a visit to city hall.

SQUIRREL'S NAME

The squirrel's name, according to the National Automobile Club, comes from two Greek words "skia" and oura." Literally, the name meanrs "he who holds his tail over his head to shade himself."

Harry R. Farber

Candidate for Council Harry R. Ferber has stated that there are three prime issues he would stress if elected to the City Council.

One of these is taxes. "I think it's most important to consider lowering the tax burden," said Farber. "Taxes have a tendency to continually climb unless a real effort is made to hold them down. Taxes should get primary consideration in any question of annexation. If new areas will force the tax rate up, they should not be brought in. If not, then they should."

Farber, 48, resides with his wife and one of his three children at 105 Camelia drive in Daly City.

He has been in the insurance business and dealt with the public for 23 years with Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and is a member of Metro's Millionaires Club. He is a Mason of Bay City Lodge 526, San Francisco, and is an associate guardian of Bethel 183, International Order of Job's Daughters.

Besides his other community activities, he has made time to manage and coach the Franciscans semi-pro baseball team for the past four years.

Another of the things Farber wants is a closer relationship between the Daly City Council and the school districts and bonds. "All that's possible should be done here," he said, "in order that the best interests of the children can be served. There is room for improvement."

The third main area is transportation. "A city of 50,000 people deserves an adequate transportation system," he said. "The City Council should do all that is possible to meet our transportation needs. It needs immediate attention.

In announcing his candidacy, Farber had this to say about the present council:

"I am running as an independent candidate because I feel the council should consist of independent thinking minds with the ability to do the most for the taxpayer rather than be a rubber stamp for any power group."

"I think that from time to time city government should have a change of personnel in the best interest of progress.

"This city has a tremendous potential for growth. We must plan ahead so we can take our rightful place among the leading cities of California.

"It is a councilman's responsibility, basically, to represent the public. To keep his hand on the pulse of events and know what the needs are. During the course of the day in my business, I am in contact with many people. I get a cross-section of opinion. In short, I would know the feelings of the people that I represent."

Post Office Accepts Janitor Applications

Applications for janitor positions for the Daly City Post Office are now being accepted from veterans only, postmaster Vincent P. Murphy announced today.

Examinations will be open to applicants entitled to veterans preference until an adequate register of eligibles has been established. The examinations will be held in San Francisco, and applicants will be notified of the time and place of the examination.

Postmaster Murphy said, "postal careers offer many benefits, including liberal vacations and paid sick leave. Starting salary for these positions is $3,415 per year."

Additional information and application forms may be obtained at the Daly City Post Office, or from the board of U.S. civil service examiners, room 215, 180 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco 5, California.

Maintenance Service Post For Local Man

Leo H. Strauss, president of Allied Maintenance Service Corporation, has announced the following appointments .... executive vice president, Lee Cretarolo, vice president Robert H. Barr, who resides at 63 Garden Grove drive, Daly City, California, and vice president Robert D. Heller.

The name of Allied Maintenance Service Corporation is new to the area having come into local prominence following Allied's recent merger with San Francisco's International Building Service.

Strauss who headed 'International' from its inception serves now as senior vice president of Allied Maintenance Corporation of New York in addition to holding the presidency of the California Corporation.

Paris B. Simmons

Mrs. Gertrude (Gertie) Green publicly announced her acceptance of the position of campaign manager for Paris B. Simmons, at a special reception for the candidate, at her home in the St. Francis sector of Daly City last Monday. Mrs. Green has long been active in civic affairs and interested in the good government movement. She has served actively with PTA's as well as numerous political organizations.

In accepting the position of campaign manager, Mrs. Green said she was delighted to place her efforts behind a candidate in whom the voters could believe and trust.

For the first time in its history, in a most unprecedented move, the J.C.T.A. (Local association of elementary classroom teachers of the Jefferson Elementary School District) formally endorsed the candidacy of Paris B. Simmons at their last general meeting. The J.C.T.A. has, heretofore, refrained from the endorsing of any candidate for political office.

From his "Vote for Paris in April" campaign quarters, the candidate has announced his intention of delving deeper into the mystery of the whereabouts of the tax dollar. Simmons states that it is almost impossible to obtain a copy of the current budget, and that such a copy leaves much to be desired in the area of accurate accounting. He cites an example where the Maintenance Division was requested to supply information as to how the money budgeted to them was spent. The reply given, by phone, was, "Well, we spent it where we thought we needed it." "Hardly," Simmons states, "a valuable bit of information to a citizen that is helping to pay the bill."

In his campaign promise to provide, if elected, more effective representative government, Simmons states that if he is elected he will set up an Advisory Committee, including representatives from every possible factor of the city, to discuss the major issues to be decided by the City Council. He emphasizes that such advisory committees used by every candidate, would have avoided the costly Callan Annexation special referendum measure. This committee, Simmons promises, will meet periodically to discuss with him, if elected, City government, and that such meetings will be open to individuals, not represented by any group.

In an additional step towards more effective government, Simmons promises (if elected) that one hour of his time, during the week, each evening, will be devoted to the phone for citizens to call and discuss any City problem of government.

At the present time the Vote for Paris In April campaign headquarters are busy at work preparing a program for presentation to the city council which is designed to assist our community in the prevention of delinquency. An investigation is being made into the facilities available to teen-agers, with the view in mind that the $180,705.00 allocated by the Daly City Budget should be doing more for the community on a dollar and cents basis.

George Kirchhubel

An Open Letter To The Mayor:

Dear Bob:

May times I have been asked, "Why is it every time your name is mentioned by the local newspaper they always refer to you as Tavern Owner. Why is it that Bob has two liquor stores and whenever he is mentioned, it is either the Mayor or the great 49er football star?"

Well Bob, if you think that I am getting all the publicity for my bistro, I will gladly exert all my influence to see that you get a fair shake. However, if you think it more discreet and will tend to give you unfavorable political publicity, think of it in this way.

Into Illinois by way of Kentucky came a young lad, and after he grew up he opened a store, and, like you and I he poured the corn squeezings over the bar or sold it by the jug. He was a mere tike compared to you Bob, he was only 6' 4". Also, he was known as "Abe." From this his practical experience he learned a great deal about humility, understanding, kindness, tolerance and also developed a sense of humor.

He later was elected to the presidency of the United States Bob, and wherever in this world you go his name is the greatest indorsement of the finest words that were ever written by human beings on a piece of parchment, THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

It would be well Bob that your Democratic Committee evaluate your attributes, and besides your being bigger in stature than Abe, you are also better looking.

Few people know that I have 12 years in the ownership and management of a transportation utility. For the past four years the city council has done nothing to help this very serious problem.

In my platform that I will submit next week, and that I had notarized some time ago, I will present two propositions that I think will aid the city. The first involves an interurban line between San Bruno, South San Francisco, Daly City and San Francisco. A study committee would be formed from these cities. I have definite thoughts on the route, etc.

The second is the extension of the No. 14 line from the Bank south to a terminal at San Pedro Road. As all of the parking meter monies come from the Mission Street area any losses that will incur from the small fare that will be asked will be underwritten from the Parking Meter Funds. This service will operate on peak hours, between the Greyhound schedule so as to provide ten-minute service on Mission Street. I have every confidence that the service in time will become self-sustaining.

BLOW ME A LABORATORY

Glass-blowing is an art that dates back to Biblical times, but it's still being put to good use in oil company laboratories. Scientific glassworkers, according to the National utomobile Club, blow, shape, and assemble intricate flasks, tubes, and other laboratory equipment—ranging in size from needle-like slivers to crystal mazes of tangled columns and towers large enough to fill an entire room.

Micheal De Bernardi

Councilman Micheal De Bernardi during the past week met with nine women's groups representing more than 1,000 housewives throughout Daly City.

He said these meetings are aimed at acquainting the voters with the problems and plans of city government and that they will continue until the evening of the election.

"I am proud of the progress we have made in Daly City during the eight years I have been on the Council and I am convinced that we are on the way toward making this the most desirable residential community in the San Francisco Bay Area," De Bernardi said.

He added that the response from the members of the women's organizations has been enthusiastic and that they have shown a keen interest in the welfare of the community.

Mrs. Robert Drye of 98 Montrose avenue said they she was impressed with the candid approach De Bernardi has taken in discussing city affairs.

She pointed out that, as a family man with five children of his own, he is interested in providing the same community benefits and advantages that all of us want for our children.

"He understands the needs of our youth and is interested in seeing that the city does its part in meeting them," she said. "This includes a keen desire to maintain a clean community with the proper surroundings for their healthy growth and development."

Mrs. Drye praised the foresight the city has shown in developing and improving its park system and in establishing a year-around recreation program for the young people.

She said the women's groups are scheduling a series of meetings at which De Bernardi will appear throughout the city.

Wild Flower Show In Golden Gate Park Slated For March 12

The California Spring Blossom and Wild Flower Association will hold it's 39th Annual Wild-Flower Show in the Gallery of the Hall of Flowers in Golden Gate Park on March 12, 13, 14.

This will be a specimen show designed for educational purposes. Specimens of native flora and horticulture from various parts of the state will be labeled with their botanical and common names. An unusual exhibit will be a display of Marine Algae by Dr. George Oberlander of San Francisco State College. The show is free.

The show hours are Monday, March 12 from 2 p.m. until 9 p.m.; Tuesday, March 13 from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m.; Wednesday, March 14 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Mrs. Charles Edwin Edwards is general chairman, JU 7-1678. Mrs. Adelaide Harrel is co-chairman and Mrs. James I. Lewis is wild-flower chairman.

The club is a member of California Garden Clubs, Inc.
